SEINE RIVER FLOOD SWEEPING PARIS

Smudge Pots Rout Orange County Frost

COLD SNAP DOES NO DAMAGE

'Smokers' Fired at Tustin At 2 A. M. Today When Mercury Drops to 28

ICE NOT FOUND LAST NIGHT AS PREVIOUSLY

30 Degrees Is Maximum Temperature Before Sunrise, Report

Passing through two nights of the cold snap without damage to citrus fruits, Orange county today continued to maintain its reputation of being virtually immune from serious molestation by cold weather.

Indicative of the high and low points of last night, Tustin reported 28 degrees above and La Habra 30. These two points may be designated as the north and south boundaries of the citrus district in Orange county.

A. E. Watson and Felton Brown, at Tustin, began firing smudge pots during the early hours of this morning.

The thermometer at the Watson ranch registered 28 at 2 a. m. Mrs. Watson said, and smudging was begun at that time by Watson, as the temperature seemed to be below freezing. At 11:30 last night Brown began smudging on a section of the Brown ranch and at a later hour fired other divisions of the smudging system. At 7:30 a. m. today the mercury stood 31 at the Watson ranch, on Irvine boulevard.

D. Eymann Huff, manager of the Hewes Realty company, El Modena, reported 33 degrees at 6:30 a. m.

According to Dale King, manager of the Northern Orange County Fruit exchange, reports to his office indicated temperatures of 30 at La Habra, 29 at Fullerton and 34 at Yorba Linda.

"E. E. Campbell, official government weather observer for Santa Ana and vicinity, said the temperature was 30 at 7 a. m. today. His ranch is situated at the corner of Tustin and Fairhaven avenues.

Pointing out that the temperature at his place was a little lower than the night before, Campbell said that while he found ice on his place yesterday morning none was present today. He attributed the formation of ice yesterday morning to the wind.

King said a breeze prevailed in the northern part of the county last night. It was not in evidence in the south half, growers said.

While declaring his belief that no damage had been done to citrus fruits in the county, Huff said it was possible that lemons growing in swales or in unprotected low places might have been injured slightly. He said he had no knowledge that such injury had been done.

A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, pointing to the presence of ice yesterday morning, said the thaw-out was gradual and that in all probability no injury resulted.

He said that if any damage has resulted it is to lemons and oranges in the more exposed spots.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—Alex Kels, who is to hang at Folsom prison tomorrow at 10 a. m., has not lost any of his nerve.

B. S. Morrison, secretary to Warden J. J. Smith, reported that Kels was closeted with a priest this morning and that to all appearances he will go to the gallows without breaking down.

He has not asked for anything to eat outside the menu of the officers' and guards' mess, although he is entitled to special treatment.

Huge French Airship Lost In Mysterious Disaster On Voyage

Here is the French dirigible Dismude lost in the Mediterranean sea when caught in a storm off the coast of Northern Africa.

BODIES OF GIANT AIRSHIP VICTIMS TAKEN FROM SEA

PARIS, Jan. 3.—(By United Press Leased Wire) Bodies of two more of the missing dirigible Dismude's crew were found in the Mediterranean, eastward of Sicily, today, according to a wireless message received here at 4:30 p. m.

The ministry of marine was without official confirmation of the report.

The Dismude fell into the sea in flames on the night of December 21-22 and up until today only one body, that of her commander, has been found.

The giant airship, pride of France's fleet, sailed from Cuers-Pierrefeu December 18 and was last seen December 20 flying over Algeria. Storms blew the dirigible from its course and it is believed the Dismude was struck by lightning.

Wreckage of the lost dirigible was also found in the Mediterranean sea today.

An aluminum tank and half-burned debris told of the air liner's fate. One of the gasoline tanks was found off San Marco on the Sicilian coast.

A telegram to the ministry of marine from the commander of the cruiser Mulhouse confirmed the belief that the disaster occurred off Sicily.

A report from Toulon to the Echo De Paris said that the aluminum gasoline tank which was picked up bore numerous penciled scribbles which have not yet been deciphered. It is thought possible these might be last frantic messages from some of the crew.

REPORT MANY HURT IN ITALIAN QUAKE

ROME, Jan. 3.—A number of persons are reported injured in severe earthquake shocks which rocked the whole district between Monopoli and San Costanzo for 36 hours up to noon today, according to a dispatch from Ancona.

A majority of houses in both Monopoli and San Costanzo were cracked, the message said.

The surrounding country has suffered some damage.

Seismographs today registered strong earthquake shocks close to the city of Perugia, a dispatch from Carli said. The shocks lasted about six seconds. There was no damage.

Without taking a final farewell of the woman who has fought so courageously to save him from the noose.

Mrs. Kels today was reported to be in a pitifully weak and hysterical condition following Governor Richardson's refusal to grant her plea for clemency for her husband.

The only sleep she had last night was induced by opiates, and her physician and family were extremely doubtful whether she could make the trip to Folsom. She hopes to see her husband once more before he goes to his doom.

S.A. BUILDING STRIDE IS BARED

REVEAL PLAN TO PROCURE 'V' FUND

Must Have $75,000 More For Final Costs of S. A. Plant Says Finley

Asserting that it is "absolutely necessary" to raise $75,000 for the purpose of paying the final costs in connection with the completion of Santa Ana's Y. M. C. A. building, S. H. Finley, president of the local Y. M. C. A. board of directors, today outlined in detail the plan agreed upon by the governing body for obtaining this sum.

"It is the plan," said Finley, "during the last week of this month, to ask those who made pledges in the first campaign to increase them, as well as to give those who have moved into the community the privilege of taking stock in this civic enterprise. We expect to have the same division leaders and assistants who conducted the original campaign. The list includes W. C. Jerome, Alex Brownridge, Fred C. Rowland, L. A. West, R. R. Miller, W. H. Spurgeon, and approximately 160 co-workers."

John Goodell of New York will be in direct charge of the campaign.

In explanation of the necessity for the new campaign, Finley said: "In June, 1922, the people of this city and community were asked for contributions to the amount of $225,000 for the purpose of purchasing a site and erecting a building which at that time, was thought to be adequate for the use of a Y. M. C. A. in a city of the size of Santa Ana."

The response to that appeal was generous and cheerful, even beyond the hopes of the most optimistic, and resulted in pledges to the amount of $232,500.

"Before building operations could be commenced in the early part of 1923, those who had been keeping track of the growth of this community became convinced that a building, suitable for 1923, would not meet the needs of 1923 and years to come. However, the building committee was determined not to incur obligations beyond the amount pledged without a very definite authorization from those who had pledged the original $232,500."

"With this policy in mind the architect was instructed to prepare plans for a building which in 1923 seemed necessary, and which would admit of certain limitations in case it should be decided to limit ourselves to the original amount."

"Bids were taken on the complete plan as well as alterations with certain deductions. It was found that to secure the complete plant would require about $75,000 more than the amount provided. The building committee decided that the auxiliary gymnasium and a few other features to the cost of approximately $20,000 could be eliminated without permanently affecting the character and value of the remaining portions. Before making further cuts of $55,000, to bring the cost within the amount available, it was decided to get the advice of the contributors to the fund."

"A mass meeting was called, to which all interested parties were invited and at which a thorough presentation of the situation was made by the building committee."

"It was shown that to make a further reduction, that the $20,000 suggested, would necessitate the elimination of the third floor of dormitories, substitution of cement for tile finish in swimming pool and other places, as well as the

S. F. Man Gets Livermore Hospital Job

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The contract for the proposed Veterans' Bureau hospital at Livermore, California, was awarded today to Howard S. Williams, San Francisco.

Under the terms of the contract the construction must be completed within 440 days after work is begun.

The cost of the twenty-four buildings making up the hospital group was set at $75,740 by the contract.

EXPLOSION FATAL TO 8, FEAR MANY CAUGHT IN RUINS

PEKIN, Ill., Jan. 3.—Eight men are known dead in the dry dust explosion here today in the dry starch plant of the Corn Products company factory, the chief of police announced at 10:20 a. m.

Thirty-four men are missing, he said.

Approximately fifty workers were injured, some fatally.

Eight bodies were removed from the blazing debris, the police chief said, and more may be in the ruins.

SOLONS REMAIN IN DEADLOCK ON CUMMINS

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Progressive leader, came back from his sick room to the senate today and led the fight against election of Senator Cummins as chairman of the Interstate commerce committee.

LaFollette threw his voting support to his Progressive comrades and on the first ballot of the day the twenty-sixth since the fight began—the count showed: Smith, Democrat, 31.

Cummins, Progressive, 28.

Couzens, Progressive, 11.

On the 27th ballot Cummins gained one.

Number voting 71. Necessary to choice 36.

After the second ballot Senator Lodge, Republican leader, moved the senate into executive session and that finished the balloting for the day.

Homes For 2600 Families Erected Since 1920; Growth Revealed

Digging into building data today, City Building Inspector W. S. Decker presented a mass of figures showing that of the $19,403,782 put into building in Santa Ana in the twenty years and four months that such records have been kept, $8,938,418 of this sum has been spent in the last two years.

In presenting these startling figures, Decker said:

"Santa Ana, when placed alongside other cities of its size, is the wonder city of the Southland."

Decker's annual report, showing comparisons with previous years, contains some remarkable building records for the years 1922-1923. In this period 1522 single homes, with a value of $4,124,579, were built.

Other figures in the same period include:

Mellon Makes Attack On Tax Law Foes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today challenged congressional critics of his tax program to produce a better one or accept his.

Mellon's attack was aimed directly at the farm bloc which has proposed a compromise on the maximum surtax by raising it from the 25 per cent recommended by Mellon to 37 per cent, in place of the 50 per cent now effective.

The tax plan drafted by Mellon is the administration measure, he said today. If it is not sound there is no reason for compromising, Mellon believes.

DANCERS WIN BATTLE FOR LATER HOURS

L. A. City Council Committee Votes for Passage of After Midnight Ordinance.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Fight for more liberality in Los Angeles dance ordinances was successful today when the welfare committee of the city council voted to approve an amendment permitting dance until 1 a. m. on regular weekdays and 2 a. m. on holidays.

The present ordinance forces all dances to close at midnight. While agreeing to recommend the longer period for terpsichorean exercise, the committee declared in favor of more stringent regulation of the city's dance halls.

To add to the difficulties, the pumping plant which has been pumping the sewers is being inundated.

Citizens in Flight

Evacuation of Alfortville was carried out methodically, boats removing occupants of houses on five streets. At Ivry, 230 persons were evacuated and at Vitry 118. Scores were helped across the waters at Stouen, St. Denis, Suresnes, Puteaux and other suburbs of Paris.

Three feet of water filled the foreign office cellars today as the flooded river Seine continued to overflow its banks and inundate Paris and its environs. Many valuable documents were destroyed. Tracks of two Paris termini are under water and the railway stations have been closed. The suburbs are suffering worse than the city proper.

Persistent heavy rains and melting snows are increasing the difficulties of authorities as they endeavor to check the flood waters.

May Halt Sessions

Rising waters filtered into the basement of the chamber of deputies and it is feared will interfere with heating and lighting on the occasion of the opening session next Tuesday.

Six hundred lights were brought from Versailles for use in case of emergency. Firemen were busy with pumps today.

In the event the flood inundates the deputies and Concorde districts, authorities plan to wall up the subway station at the chamber, put dikes in the sewers and run wooden foot paths across the waters to the doorways of France's house of parliament.

The first flood casualty occurred when a St. Germain man, unable to distinguish between flooded streets and the river, drove his automobile into the latter and was drowned.

Great wine warehouses at Bercy were flooded. Hundreds of barrels of wine floated about. Rare vintages were salvaged.

Railway Station Hit

The flood was sweeping into the Marianne railway station and it may prove necessary to move the terminal a mile further out from Paris to Javel.

It is expected by Saturday the Seine will be within three feet of its high record established in 1910.

The Marne, too, is overflowing its banks.

Paris officials admit they have not taken sufficient measures to prevent a catastrophe in the event that the Seine invades the streets of the capital. They excuse the lack of action by pointing to the enormous cost of such precautions, and moreover that the river is state and not municipal property.

The Seine now has risen over 22 feet with no relief in sight. The record level reached in 1910 was 28 feet.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3.—Mabel Normand, film star involved in the Courtland Dinec sensational shooting of New Year's evening, was operated on shortly before noon today in the Good Samaritan hospital for chronic appendicitis. At the same time came underground reports that the condition of Dinec is much more serious than the hospital announces. He is said to be suffering from critical pneumonia.

Thousands Leaving Homes As Rising Waters Spread Disaster

(By United Press Leased Wire) PARIS, Jan. 3.—The rising river Seine burst through dikes at the Billancourt gate of Paris today and poured in a torrent over the moats and fortifications above the capital.

The situation became critical at Alfortville, Vitry, Ivry and Choisy-le-Roi, at which suburbs hundreds of people were evacuated.

By 1 p. m. the Seine had risen another eight inches.

Water had started filtering into the Nord-Sud subway, near the Chamber of Deputies.

To add to the difficulties, the pumping plant which has been pumping the sewers is being inundated.

Johnson In Enemy Territory to Start Campaign for Presidency

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 3.—Determined to bring President Coolidge out into the open and force him into a debate of national issues, Senator Hiram Johnson arrived in Cleveland today and prepared to formally launch his presidential nomination.

Johnson was accompanied by Frank Hitchcock, his national campaign manager. He went into immediate conference and will spend the day discussing and perfecting campaign plans.

With the Ohio Republican committee already urged to support Mr. Coolidge at the National convention to be held here in June, Johnson realizes that he is in the heart of "enemy territory." It was because of this that he decided to open his pre-convention fight here.

The Californian will open his pre-campaign fight in the municipal auditorium, where the National convention will be held in June. He will make a public address at 8 p. m.

Johnson emphatically denied a rumor that a compromise was being made, under the terms of which he would become Coolidge's running mate.

"As Coolidge and myself are the only Republican candidates," he said, "I cannot feel highly complimented at the suggestion of a second choice position."

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmola Prescription Tablets overcome all these difficulties. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise and have the added advantage of cheapness. A box is sold at one dollar by all druggists the world over, or send the price direct to the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this, you have no excuse for being fat, but can reduce steadily and easily without going through long stages of tireless exercise and starvation diet or fear of bad effects.

MAN AND APE ARE COUSINS, IS THEORY

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 3.—Man, although the product of evolution, did not descend directly from the ape of today and had his origin in Europe 400,000 years ago, instead of in Asia as generally is believed, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka of the National Museum, Washington, D. C., a leading anthropologist, declared before the American Association for the Advancement of Science, in convention here.

The relationship of the existent ape to man probably is that of a "cousin," Dr. Hrdlicka said, the two having sprung from branches of the same family hundreds of thousands of years ago. "If we went far enough back, however, both probably would be found to have had their origin in the state of a simple, double molecule," he added.

While some sort of anthropoid or manlike ape probably was the precursor of the present human race, Dr. Hrdlicka said, there must have been a transition period during which man existed in various grades down to the animal state. "The distance between the lowest form of man and the highest form of ape, however, is too great even to be passed by mutation," he declared.

Indisputable traces of men who existed almost at the beginning of the "ice" period of 400,000 to 500,000 years ago have been found in various places in Europe, he declared, "and even these are not the first traces of the existence of the human race there. Stone implements of a more primitive type than those used by these people, and which apparently were the tools of men of ages before, also have been discovered."

In the middle ages the kings and feudal nobility practically levied on their dependents for gifts on New Year's. The presents varied according to sex and rank. In the 16th century the suitable gift from tenant to landlord was a capon.

COUNTY GROVES ARE UNHURT, IS REPORT

damage by the freeze last night and this morning, according to officials of the Riverside and Arlington Heights Fruit company, following an investigation of the situation.

Exchange and independent packers refused to make a definite estimate of the situation until they have had time to make a careful check. If there has been any loss at all it is in low, unprotected and badly cultivated groves, the citrus men said. Well cared for orchards were not hurt. Heaters were burned all night, keeping the temperature up.

HOLDS SOUTHLAND GROVES ESCAPED FROST DAMAGE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—That Southern California has passed through the worst of the present cold spell, with little if any damage done to the year's citrus crop, was the opinion expressed here today by H. B. Hersey, weather observer.

Last night, according to Hersey's reports, was hardly as cold as the one previous, although in some sections the mercury dropped below freezing point. Smudging was general.

Tonight will still be cold with a probable freeze, and Hersey warned growers against giving up the vigil they have been maintaining.

Officials of the California Fruit Growers association predicted that a careful check of the groves during the next few days will show but a very small loss.

Escondido, north of San Diego, reported the lowest temperature registered last night, with a mark of 26 degrees, endangering many lemon groves in that vicinity. Calexico, in the Imperial Valley, was second, with a 27 degree minimum.

Pasadena and Santa Ana registered 30 degrees, Corona and Decker's report for 1923 shows that 1656 permits, with a value of $5,166,587, were issued, 117 permits for December bringing that month's total up to $199,905. The 1923 figures show that permits were issued for 790 single homes, with a value of $2,331,376, while permits for eighty-nine business buildings totaled $816,516.

Alterations and repairs for the year 1923 totaled $430,018, while schools and additions added $345,000 to the grand total.

"This record is remarkable," said Decker, "but it has been a steady, substantial growth, with no boom symptoms whatever. And we are going to keep on growing. I am confident we will continue to hold our own in 1924."

"The total amount of building for twenty years and four months amounts to $19,403,782. Striking as these figures are, they take on added significance when we glance at the marvelous record of the past twenty-four months.

"Nearly $9,000,000, or 46 per cent of the total for twenty years, has been spent in the last two years.

"Total building for three years was $10,996,766—and this amount is 56 per cent of the total for twenty years and four months.

RAIN, SNOW SWEEPING OVER NORTHERN CALIF.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—California thermometers climbed up a few notches last night, according to the United States weather bureau here. The cold snap has been broken and things are going to warm up, slowly however.

Rain was general throughout the northern part of the state last night and today and snow fell at Chico, Orland and a few other places. Higher level to the east are blanketed.

Light frosts visited the upper San Joaquin valley.

Red Bluff was the heaviest rainfall, registering .030 inch. Santa Rosa was second with .74. Slightly less than half an inch fell in the San Francisco bay region up to five a. m. today, with no sign of abatement.

TEMPERATURE IN RECORD RISE AT KLAMATH LAKE.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Jan. 3.—The Klamath Lake region experienced a record rise in temperature in the last 24 hours.

Wednesday morning the mercury registered 24 degrees below zero. Today the same thermometers marked 27 degrees above, and everybody's happy.

Snow fell throughout this section and down into Northern California during the night, causing some inconvenience to railroads and communication and power lines. There was a four-inch fall here and at Redding, Calif., and seven inches at Dunsmuir.

Evening Gowns For Late Winter Gayeties Show New Departure In Arrangement of the Trimming

So much attention has been paid recently to the nice adjustment of softly flowing front draperies, the corsage ornament or the girle with its flaring bow to the side, of the evening wear, that the decorative frocks that are chosen for the latest festive, seem most unusual.

One of these new ideas consists of long ties that begin on each shoulder, loop over each other and fall nearly to the dress hem. All this in the back of the frock—there's not a sign of them in front. The dress is almost perfectly straight—just a slight tightening about the waist to give it shape.

Another pretty, evening dress shows the rather full drape that is formed by a skirt wrapped around from the back to one side—instead of from the front to one side, as is

Red Seal Concert and Operatic

Cherry Ripe (Cyril Scott) Violin Solo Fritz Kreisler 966 1.50
Entr'acte (Kranet) Violin Solo Fritz Kreisler

The old English street-song on Robert Herrick's poem and a delicately fantastic bit of melody from the hand of a living American composer.

Barbieri di Siviglia—Ecco ridente in cielo Tito Schipa 965 1.50
(Barber of Seville—Down with Her Royal Majesty) In Italian

Barbieri di Siviglia—Se il mio nome Tito Schipa
(Barber of Seville—If My Name You Would Know) In Italian

Love-arias, the second to the artist's own guitar. They are so melodious and they are sung so smoothly it is hard to realize they are display numbers.

Light Vocal Selections

Colleen Aroon Richard Crooks 45373 1.00
Irish Love Song Richard Crooks

The first record by this fine young tenor. Two Irish songs in half-popular lyric style that will surprise you.

Nearer and Dearer Helen Clark-Lewis James 19208 .75
Why Should I Give My Love to You? Lewis James

The oldest songs in the world—and the newest—are love songs. Here are two of the very newest.

Rememb'ring (from "Topsy and Eva") The Duncan Sisters 19206 .75
I Never Had a Mammy The Duncan Sisters
(from "Topsy and Eva") for which the sisters have written songs which include the present two.

Melodious Instrumental

Moorish March (from "Bohemia") (Mozzkowski) The Goldman Band 19166 .75
Torchlight Dance (from "Fascination") (Rubinstein)

Two band numbers in sumptuous, semi-barbaric style. Both are revelations of concert-band playing.

Dance Records

Irish Melodies—Medley Waltz The Troubadours
(My Wild Irish Rose—"Molly O"—"Mamie Reilly") 19177 .75

Songs of Yesterday—Medley Fox Trot No. 1
(On San Francisco Bay—"She Was Born in Old Kentucky"—"In Old Old Georgia"—"My Old New Hampshire Home") Manhattan Merry-makers

These remarkably fine records are made up of well-known tunes. Waltz and fox trot between them yield a brilliant number.

There are Some Things You Never Forget International Novelty Orchestra 19207 .75
Your Lips—Waltz International Novelty Orchestra
(from "One Kiss")

Here is a dance record so good in detail it will pay you just to listen to it even if you don't care to dance.

Roamin' to Wyomin'—Fox Trot Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra 19209 .75
That's My Baby—Fox Trot Waring's Pennsylvanians

These will suit every variety of that world-institution, the Pan-American fox-trotter.

Not Here—Not There—Fox Trot Joe Raymond and His Orchestra 19210 .75
Down on the Farm—Fox Trot Manhattan Merry-makers

Happy-go-lucky fox trots. The second has a vocal refrain, animal sounds, a barn dance with quadrille-calls—all in a single number.

There is only one Victrola and that is made by the Victor Company—look for the Victor trademarks.

FAMILY OF 23 IS REVEALED AT JAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—One of the largest families on record in San Francisco came to light when the father, Alfredo Marroquin, was haled before Police Judge McAtee on a liquor charge. Twenty-three progeny comprise this unique aggregation, fourteen of whom are living.

And, in addition, there will be a twenty-fourth baby within a short time, as the wife, Mrs. Serafina Marroquin, 44 years of age, is an expectant mother.

Marroquin, a laborer, of 2900 Seventeenth street, brought into court to explain his alleged manufacture of Spanish wine, alleged that his wife used it for cooking purposes. Asked by the judge if she were in court to verify this, he replied that she was not, and explained the domestic situation.

He was granted clemency—a 30-day suspended sentence.
No evidence of race suicide marks the Marroquin family. Ranging from adults to a 2-year old, they fill the humble cottage to overflowing and regarded their father's release from custody yesterday in the light of a celebration.

The new arrival, whom the various members of the family agree will be named Wilfredo, is expected shortly. The mother, a fragile, timid woman, refused to talk about her brood.

News Briefs

Chamber of Commerce representatives from all Orange county cities will be invited to attend an important meeting of the Orange county welfare conference Wednesday night at the Cherry Blossom cafe at Anaheim, according to an announcement made today by W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor. The conference will begin at 6:30 o'clock, with a banquet.

With fourteen Santa Ana school teachers unable to teach because of illness and the city's reserve list of instructors already utilized, Miss Elizabeth Phillips, secretary to J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, today urged persons in Santa Ana holding teachers' certificates to register for substitute work. This should be done at the board of education office immediately, Miss Phillips said.

The Men's Brotherhood of the First Presbyterian church is looking forward with pleasant anticipation to its next meeting, January 15, when Dr. Lewis S. Mudge, of Philadelphia, stated clerk of the general assembly and one of the distinguished men of the church in the United States, will be the speaker. Dinner will precede the address. Non-members are being invited to hear the speech, which will be delivered in the church auditorium.

Guests of J. A. Smiley, president, members of the board of directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau were tendered a "farewell luncheon" at St. Ann's Inn today. It was the final gathering before the annual election of board members in February, it was pointed out.

BLOWOUT LEADS TO TIRE THEFT, CLAIM

The theft of an automobile tire from a machine belonging to U. L. Barge of Santa Ana by a party of Riverside and Corona youths, the latter bound for Tia Juana last December 19, was a closed incident today, Fred Bell, one of the party, having pleaded guilty to petty larceny. He was fined $100 by Justice J. B. Cox.

Five other youths, Kenneth Smith, Howard Church, J. C. Kibler, P. W. Ogle Jr. and Wesley Harris pleaded not guilty in the case and their cases were dismissed, on motion of Deputy District Attorney Otto Jacobs.

A tire blowout, while the party was passing through Santa Ana en route to Tia Juana, led to the theft, it was said. Barge's car was sighted standing along the street and the tire change was made, Bell admitted. An observer of the incident reported the license number of the passing car and the party was arrested at Oceanside.

Ogle and Harris have been in jail since their arrest, being unable to provide bail. In addition, Ogle, it was said, lost possession of his car, which he had purchased on contract and which was repossessed by a finance company.

WORRIED MOTHER SEEKS SON HERE

Mrs. Maude Herth of Seattle, is worrying concerning the safety of a son from whom she has not heard for several months. Her son, Edmund Herth, 20, is believed to be somewhere in Los Angeles or in Southern California. Young Herth, who is a sailor, came to Los Angeles to re-enlist following the expiration of a previous enlistment. According to his sister, Mrs. Anne Hayes of Los Angeles, he has not been heard from since then.

Mrs. Hayes stated that the young man had been reported to be in Denver, but the rumor could not be verified. According to Mrs. Hayes, she came to Los Angeles in July to search for her brother. Mrs. Hayes said that her brother could reach her by addressing a letter to General Delivery, Los Angeles, and his mother could be reached by letter at Seattle.

Several persons told Mrs. Hayes they had seen her brother in Santa Ana.

MORE BEAUTIES ENGAGED FOR VETS' REVUE

An additional singing and dancing sister team, the Misses Hazel De Vere and Irene Howard, two beauties who are making a big reputation for themselves on the Pacific Coast, has been signed for "The Powder Puff Revue," which will be presented at the Temple theater here the nights of January 15 and 16 under the auspices of Orange County Vets. No. 527, La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux.

In making this announcement today, Z. B. West Jr., chief de gare of the veterans' organization, said: "The addition of this singing and dancing duo gives us an array of talent that is certain to create a sensation. The outstanding feature of the revue is its dainty atmosphere.

"Every precaution has been taken by the creators of 'The Powder Puff Revue' to exclude every act that might have the least suggestion of vulgarity. At the same time, attention has been given to speeding up the revue to a mile-a-minute pace.

"One of the principal figures to keep the ball rolling at breath-taking tempo is Mel Melvin, artist in burnt cork, whose comedy methods are certain to 'bring down the house.'

Reserved seats for the two performances will be placed on sale tomorrow at the Santa Ana Book Store, 105 East Fourth street.

'MYSTERY BOY' IN GIRL CASE FURORE

What was thought to have been a possible attempt to bewilder the 10-year-old girl, appearing as star witness against T. W. Tippin, accused of a statutory offense against her, was balked today at the trial of Tippin in the superior court, when Bailiff S. J. Scott ordered an unknown stranger outside of the court railing.

When the trial opened at 10 a. m. today in Judge Z. B. West's court, Scott discovered a strange youth seated beside the defendant, Tippin. There was said to be a strong resemblance between Tippin and the stranger. Thinking that this might be a move to prevent the child witness from identifying Tippin, Scott ordered the "mystery boy" away. The latter took a seat outside the railing just behind Tippin.

Selection of a jury occupied little time and the jury box was filled at 10:30. Judge West ordered a recess at that time.

Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley appeared for the prosecution at today's trial. Attorney James L. Hansen, of Huntington Beach, appointed by the court for the defense, represented Tippin.

8 DRIVE FROM EAST TO RESIDE IN S. A.

After a thrilling automobile trip from Itasca, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Cratsenberg, and four children, the youngest a baby boy of fourteen months, Mr. Cratsenberg's cousin, Lee Cratsenberg, and a friend, Albert Shaw, arrived in Santa Ana yesterday to make their homes here.

The party left Itasca in two automobiles December 8. Through Indiana and Kansas, the travelers said, the roads were good and in Missouri fair, but through New Mexico and Arizona, they were bad. Often, there was rain, snow and mud up to the running board. In one place the machines followed a fast railroad train for two miles over a railroad bridge, as a freshet had washed out the road bridge. It took four days to travel from Winslow to Flagstaff. The party stopped at hotels when these could be found.

C. V. Cratsenberg is a son of C. Cratsenberg of 722 South Van Ness avenue.

Unidentified Driver Hurts Cyclist, Aged 7

An unidentified motorist today had injured Judson Palmer, 7-year-old son of William Palmer, 120 Buffalo street, and smashed the boy's bicycle in a collision near the Palmer home.

In reporting the accident to the police, the father said the driver failed to aid the boy after the accident, which occurred yesterday.

The Palmer boy was badly bruised. The driver of the automobile was said to have asked his victim's name and address, but to have driven away before the latter could secure the license number of the automobile.

DESERT MANSION IS ECCENTRIC PROJECT

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Jan. 3.—The mysterious activities of "Death Valley" Scotty celebrated character whose eccentric exploits held the interest of a Nation a decade ago, have again aroused speculations among his neighbors as the fringe of Death Valley.

Ont on his ranch in Grapevine Canyon, where Scotty of late has been raising figs, raisins and a host of semi-tropical fruits, building has started on a large scale. Carloads of lumber have arrived for Scotty, all of a first-class grade and including several choice shipments of hardwoods. The canny Scotty keeps silent as to what a summer resort is contemplated and lets the surmise templated.

New Year Resolution Brings Grief; Clock Outstanding Culpit

When you make a New Year's resolution to get up at 6 a. m. every day and take a cold bath be sure to wind your watch and clock regularly, otherwise, in your enthusiasm to immerse yourself in the frigid fluid you may find yourself getting up at 2 o'clock in the morning.

It happened to J. W. Estes, local insurance man, the second day of the new year.

Not only did he drag himself out of bed at the unseemly hour of 2 o'clock, but Mrs. Estes and the young Estes also.

Along about 2:45 a. m., when Estes, et al. were preparing to eat breakfast, and it should have been about 6:45 a. m., somebody happened to think it was awfully dark.

The telephone operator supplied the information regarding what time it was.

WIDOW OF LATE PRESIDENT IN WASHINGTON

(By United Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Mrs. Florence Harding came back to Washington today.

The widow of the former president, looking a little older and sadder, arrived from Marion, Ohio, where she has been resting since she moved out of the White House last August following the death of her husband.

President and Mrs. Coolidge sent a White House automobile to Union station to meet Mrs. Harding and take her to the apartment reserved for her in a downtown hotel within sight of the White House. Attorney General Daugherty also met her. She came in with Mrs. Charles E. Sawyer, with whom she was staying near Marion, ever since the summer.

The journey from Marion was made in the private car of an official of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mrs. Harding's return immediately started speculation concerning the part she will play in the momentous political events of this year. Though she has never sought the limelight of publicity, Mrs. Harding has for years been in close touch with affairs and her influence has been wielded often in matters of state.

She will spend the rest of her life carrying out, as far as she can, Mr. Harding's great dream of world peace.

Mrs. Harding is also intensely interested in seeing that disabled soldiers are given the fullest care the government can afford them. She has been invited to become active in politics by acceptance of a place on the Ohio delegation to the Republican National convention next June, but has not announced her decision.

For the present Mrs. Harding will live quietly. Later in the winter she may travel for a short time. (Copyright 1924, by United Press)

SEARCH ON FOR 2 BANDITS AS MAN ROBBED

Highways and railroad yards were being searched today by deputy sheriffs following the hold-up of J. G. Stacy, salesman for the Booth Grocery company, of Santa Ana, who was robbed of $150, a watch and two checks for $50 by a pair of bandits at the Santa Fe crossing of Placentia avenue last evening.

Stacy was driving his car along the new Placentia avenue boulevard at about 7 p. m. when his car was boarded by one of the bandits as he slowed for the railroad crossing between Orange and Anaheim. A second bandit remained in the background.

The man on the running board covered Stacy with a pistol and ordered him to stop after crossing the railroad. Then he forced Stacy to leave the car and walk a short distance along the road where the transfer of cash and valuables took place. Then the two bandits hurried away along the railroad track in the direction of Orange.

In reporting the hold-up to Sheriff Jernigan, Stacy was able to give only a meager description of the bandit who had boarded his car and none at all of the confederate who remained in the background. The former, he said, was a man about 30 years old and wore a brown sweater.

With this description the officers began a search of railroad yards, meanwhile keeping a watch on highways throughout the county.

Most of the money taken from Stacy was said to belong to the grocery company which employed him.

ATTORNEY SAYS RIDGE ROUTE DANGEROUS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Numerous curves, excessive grades, and snow, sleet and ice and numerous other bad features make the popular Ridge Route highway a dangerous and unsatisfactory one, and it should be eliminated and a new road constructed, according to Edward Winterer, a Los Angeles attorney, who has written to the chambers of commerce of Los Angeles and Bakersfield and the state highway commission suggesting that the new road be built along a route suggested by him.

Those who have traveled the Ridge Route highway between Southern California and the San Joaquin valley will find much of interest in the attorney's contention and suggestions for a change of the highway.

Winterer's proposed highway would run from Tejon summit to the Santa Clara valley, and would be over the shortest, straightest, lowest and only natural and feasible route via Antelope valley, it is claimed. The route suggested is in direct line between Tejon and the crossing of the present state highway over the Santa Clara valley.

Says Ridge Route Dangerous. The letters declare the Ridge route to be objectionable for a multiplicity of reasons, and that as part of the state highway system it is not functioning with average speed, safety or efficiency. Virtually all of the objections made to the Ridge route would be eliminated and many advantages added by the construction of a road over the route he proposes, Attorney Winterer states.

Among faults found with the Ridge Route in the communication placed with the state commission and chambers are numerous curves, excessive grades, danger due to curves and precipitous slides, excessive elevation, 15-mile speed limit, circuitousness, and snow, sleet and ice part of the year.

Here is proposed route: From "German" on United States contour map, Tejon Triangle, and on the present state highway, proceed southerly along a valley which is part of the watershed of Piru creek to the intersection of the same with the Canaan of Los Alamos; along same to its intersection with Piru creek proper; along Piru creek to a point near where the elevation of the creek itself is about 2060, then forward to Oak Flat; over the ridge, which is about 3000 feet above sea level; thence to Violin canyon and down the same into Santa Clara valley, joining the present state highway near the Santa Clara river.

Advantages of such a road according to Attorney Winterer, would be: No need for short, zig-zag curves or ladder location; maximum gradient 4 per cent or less, free from snow and ice, faster travel, cut distance of mountain travel and running time, reduce slides, safer and more attractive for both pleasure and commercial uses.

Ford Company Plans Many Improvements

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 3.—Extensive improvement of waterways looking to the development of an all-water route from Green Island, New York, to Detroit; completion of a plant started at St. Paul, Minn.; an addition to the Kansas City assembly plant and extension of business throughout the South and West, are among the items named in a statement by the Ford Motor company in its expansion program for 1924.

An official of the company close to Ford was authority for the assertion that the statement covered improvements which would call for an expenditure of from $110,000,000 to $160,000,000 during the year.

HOLDS TAX CUT POSSIBLE FOR LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Unless extraordinary improvements are made, or large bond issues voted by the people of Los Angeles county, the county tax rate should be lower next year because of the $418,649,927 increase in assessed valuation of property reported by County Assessor Hopkins.

This is the expressed belief of County Supervisor R. F. McClellan. But with several needed projects going before the voters for bond issues, the electorate will hold the question of a tax reduction entirely in their own hands, he said.

First, the county needs a new courthouse, one which will accommodate the growth of business and increase of population for many years to come.

Need Flood Control Plan. Second, a flood control plan must be determined, as county officials believe that future development of Los Angeles depends entirely upon the amount of water which can be secured.

"No one questions the need for a new courthouse," said McClellan. "That is something which every person realizes as soon as they step into the building. As fast as we make room for additional growth that room is absorbed and we are called upon for more."

"Los Angeles county needs a big beautiful courthouse which will be in keeping with the importance and future population of the county. We must decide soon when it is to be built and what it is to cost."

"But the water question is one

80 ELEPHANTS IN PARADE TO HONOR RULER

LUCKNOW, India, Jan. 3.—A stately procession of seventy elephants, all gorgeously decorated with ornamental howdahs and trappings, was one of the chief features of the viceroy's recent visit to this city. British and Indian troops lined the decorated streets as Lord Reading and the countless passed through the city.

The visit to Lucknow was part of an official and extensive tour of British India, and was marked by the holding of a viceregal Durbar in which Lord Reading greeted the notable citizens of the province in a ceremonial manner in keeping with traditions which reach back to the early days of Indian rulers. In his address on this occasion the viceroy expressed sympathy with the victims of recent floods and gave a brief survey of the national political situation, emphasizing the new responsibilities which have been laid upon the Indian people. He spoke in part as follows:

"It is with deep regret that I have heard of the serious communal disturbances which have recently occurred in several places in the province. It is my earnest prayer that these differences may be composed. The effect of communal dissension is not confined to the suffering and disaster it produces in the area where it is manifest. Its malign influence has a wider import. It stifles all hopes of political progress among the people. It saps the forces of national life, for it tends to deny the existence of a common public weal or of common effort in cooperation."

that the man who draws a drink at his kitchen faucet does not grasp a large part of the county is without water and sewers. Future development of this community will be advanced or retarded, just as we meet the water situation.

Suggests Federal Dam. "Right now we are hoping that relief for all time may be secured through the control of the lower San Gabriel river. This dam should be put in by the federal government, or at least by the government in conjunction with the state and county."

"We now have surveyors on the ground, taking soundings and gathering data which we can present to Washington with an estimate on the cost. It will be several months before that work is completed."

Light Is Promised On Shipyard Sale

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—After several months of vain effort to get light on the agreement by which the Liberty shipyard in Alameda was sold by the government shipping board to private parties for at least $25,000 less than offers which had been previously refused the city of Alameda, has at last been recognized. James Tyson, representing the group of capitalists who obtained the comparatively lower sale price on the property, went into conference with William J. Locke, city attorney of Alameda, and promised him that a duplicate copy of the sale papers would be made public within a week. The property is reported to have been sold on a partial payment plan by which $50,000 was paid down, with three payments of $100,000 to be paid, the property title remaining in the name of the government until the final payment.

The New Year's gift custom is supposed to have been derived from the Romans, but is probably much older. Claudius and Tacitus mention. Claudius issued a decree forbidding the demanding of presents except on New Year's Day. The Roman colonists in Britain found that the Saxons kept New Year's in the same fashion.

tion for a single purpose.

"The age of tutelage has passed. Its place has been taken by an age of test. To India has been granted a wide measure of new liberties, of new opportunities, of new dignities and of new obligations. Her feet are set on the road which leads to full representative government, and to the high destiny awaiting her in the empire. May the people of India work together to make her progress easy."

40,000,000,000,000 german marks off on every suit and overcoat!

Now I may make that 50,000,000,000,000 tomorrow—and if you'd rather wait for the foreign exchange quotations, all right, but it will be $10 United States money today, tomorrow and until I get tired seeing such large chunks of legitimate profit walking out the door!

Ten dollars is a fortune over yonder—and it is of right smart proportions in this store when you subtract it from a $27.50, $30, $35 or up to $55 Suit or Overcoat! PLEASE go easy, however, and try to pick out something over $35, because I'll tell you frankly they're marked too blamed low already.

$10 off on any suit or overcoat in my store

I don't think a sale is much good unless you turn a man loose on the whole works—besides, I haven't any place where I can hide a lot of Suits and Overcoats that I'd like to. All the "Fashion Park" garments are insulted by this reduction along with all the rest.

SPECIAL! Incidentally, all Sweaters in the store are taking a tumble to the tune of 20%. Thermo, Tom Wye, Pinkerton, Bradley, Brushed Wool, Rip Stitch, Fancies and Plains—a regular mob of them, and people do say that my sweaters are 'nt so bad.

Betrothals Weddings ReceptionsHarris Home Offers Hospitality to Many Guests

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Harris of 2005 South Ross street were among those who entertained delightfully on New Year's day. Their hospitality took the form of a 1 o'clock dinner and the pleasant home was ringing with the laughter and gay conversation of a large guest group.

This included the host's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Harris of Buena Park together with Mrs. Chadwick and son Carroll also of Buena Park; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kohler, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smiley, Yucatan; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Caldwell and baby daughter, Wilma; Whittier; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Warner and son Donald, Covina; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kohler and sons Harold and Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Kohler and children Edna, Raymond and Leo, Mrs. Elizabeth Kohler, Mrs. Mary Milligan, Miss Julietta Hagthorpe of this city, together with Grant Harris, son of the home and two out-of-the-state guests, Mr. and Mrs. Cox of Deer Park, Wash., who are spending the winter in California.

Music, games and conversation enlivened the happy afternoon following the elaborate dinner, and Mr. and Mrs. Harris were voted royal entertainers by their guests.

W. R. C. President Entertains Officers

A pleasant social affair in W. R. C. circles took place yesterday at G. A. R. hall when Mrs. Clara Wedgewood, retiring president of the Relief Corps, entertained the staff of officers whose co-operation has been so appreciated during her year's work.

The officers were asked for all day and at noon, Mrs. Wedgewood assisted by her daughter and house guest, Mrs. May Hall of Marshalltown, Iowa, served a delectable chicken dinner at a long table, adorned with a handsome basket of California fruits.

During the happy social intercourse of the afternoon the hostess took the opportunity to present each member of her official family with a pretty gift in appreciation of their love and loyalty.

Mrs. Wedgewood's officers, all of whom were invited and most of whom were present, included Mrs. Kate Sutton, senior vice president who will soon take the president's chair; Mrs. Beatrice Hossler, Mrs. Emma Wright, Mrs. Manuela Smith, Mrs. Martha Crane, Mrs. Elizabeth Birkhead, Mrs. Sarah Brown of Tustin, Mrs. Mary Crissman, Mrs. Eva Bell, Mrs. Arletta Phillips, Mrs. Marcella Farrell, Mrs. Sybil Eaton, Mrs. Almeda Smith, Mrs. Ella Lash, Mrs. Lucy Johnson, Mrs. Estelle Ludwig and Mesdames Alice Yount and Emma Lieser of the auditing committee.

Mrs. Hall who assisted her mother, Mrs. Wedgewood in greeting and entertaining the guests, will spend the remainder of the winter with her parents at 829 Cypress street and may decide to locate in Santa Ana.

ANOTHER HAWAIIAN COUPLE WED IN S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Francisco is becoming the Gretna Green for Hawaii. Within the last fortnight three weddings have taken place in this city, the participants being prominent residents of the Hawaiian Islands. All the couples have picked San Francisco, it is said, because they can enjoy their honeymoons in automobile tours of California.

J. Frank Woods and the Princess Elizabeth K. Kalaniana'ole, widow of the late Prince Jonah Kūhiō Kalaniana'ole, familiarly known as Prince "Cupid", for many years territorial delegate to Congress, are the latest to wed in San Francisco. Their wedding was a quiet affair at the Hotel Fairmont. They are now "honeymooning" by automobile.

Woods, a wealthy cattleman of Kohala on the island of Hawaii, was a Captain in the World War. The bride is the daughter of Chief Kalakaua of Maui.

Among the superstitious rural folk in the north of England, if a child is christened on New Year's Day, a little boy is engaged to meet the baby as it is taken from its home, so as to avoid the possibility of meeting a woman first, as this is deemed unlucky.

New Yorkers Arrive To Spend Winter

Interesting guests in the city are Mr. and Mrs. George Perkins of Newark, New York, who arrived early in the week to spend the remainder of the winter as guests of Mr. Perkins' father, C. H. Perkins, 911 Spurgeon street and brother, Alfred J. Perkins of French street.

The New Yorkers have spent several winters in Southern California and are happy to return to the sunshine again. Mrs. Perkins is an ardent stamp collector and her visit promises many things of interest to the philatelists of the city who recently formed a flourishing organization here.

Ready to Present Annual Dinner

The annual dinner and business meeting of the First Congregational church will be held in the church dining-room next Wednesday evening. Following the dinner, reports from all officers and heads of departments of the church will be heard.

Woman's Bible Class

One of the most flourishing organizations of the Christian church is the Women's Bible class which is entering upon its fourteenth year under the direction of the same teacher, Mrs. F. M. Gist whose grasp of Biblical subjects and remarkable presentation of them, place her in the front ranks of Bible students of the city.

Mrs. Gist was elected unanimously to the post while officers supporting her will be Mrs. C. E. Price, president; Mrs. Cood Adams, first vice-president; Mrs. Glover, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles Wagner, secretary; Mrs. A. Y. Napier, assistant secretary; Mrs. A. W. Gerrard, treasurer; Mrs. R. S. Briggs, pianist, Mrs. H. L. Schlink, assistant pianist and Miss May Scholes, music director.

The class now boasts a membership of 259 with 23 social members. The average Sunday attendance throughout 1923 was 106 while 517 visitors were welcomed. It is significant that the teacher, Mrs. Gist was present everyone of the 52 Sundays.

One of the classes greatest activities is in calling on church members and 5,660 calls were reported during the year just ended. The committee nominating the new officers was composed of Mesdames Charles Johnson, E. G. Summers and Isabel Tucker.

Veteran Rebekahs

Some confusion has resulted among members of the Veteran Rebekah association as to the place of meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

In accordance with their established custom, the members of the association will meet at the I. O. O. F. parlors where an interesting business session awaits them.

Miss Arline Davis of The County Library Is Holiday Bride

The countless friends made by Miss Arline Davis during her several years' association with the Orange county library in this city where she was assistant librarian, will be deeply interested in her marriage to Mr. Harry Beardsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Beardsley of Los Angeles, which was an event of Monday, December 31.

The wedding was a pretty home affair with only the immediate relatives of the young people present. The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Evan Davis of East Palmyra avenue, Orange and has lived in Orange all her life. Her girlhood home was decked with flowers and Christmas appointments for the pretty ceremony uniting her and Mr. Beardsley.

Miss Davis wore a smart afternoon frock of golden-brown satin crepe and carried violets arranged with lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern.

Entering the pretty livingroom, the young couple met beneath a shower of kisses which a great white wedding bell was suspended. There they took their vows before the Rev. M. L. Pearson of the Orange Presbyterian church, the bride's pastor under whom she has been most active, especially in the Young People's department of the church.

Following loving wishes and congratulations, a daintily appointed luncheon was served at tables adorned with massed poinsettias. Later Mr. and Mrs. Beardsley took their departure for a motor honeymoon and upon their return will welcome their friends at Artesia where Mr. Beardsley is manager of the Crescent Creamery company's dairy.

Gathered for the nuptial ceremony were Mrs. Evan Davis, mother of the bride, and Percy Davis of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Beardsley, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Beardsley, the Misses Ruth, Cora and Oda Beardsley and Messrs. Ewing and Glen Beardsley all of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dorman of Los Angeles, the Rev. M. L. Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. White.

Master Russell Jay Elliget celebrated his sixth birthday most happily Tuesday afternoon by entertaining a group of his little friends at his home on West Second street.

Music, games and refreshments for the children were enjoyed and young Miss Vera Getty, talented pupil of the Putnam School of Dancing, gave a very pleasing fancy dance to the strains of "The March of the Wooden Soldiers."

After the happy playtime, Master Russell opened the refreshment hour by blowing out the six candles on his birthday cake which was then served with ice cream to the following little guests.

Leslie De Vaul, Helen and Jack Ringworth, Vera Getty, Virginia and Annalee Moore, Eileen, Robert and James Dunn, and Buster and Hope Hackelton.

Aid Society
Meeting for purely social purposes, the Ladies' Aid society of the First Christian church yesterday held a pleasant session at the church parlors and enjoyed a pot-luck luncheon at noon.

Armed with their fancywork, the members stitched and chatted during the forenoon hours and in the afternoon greeted their new officers recommended by Mrs. A. W. Gerrard chairman of the nominating committee.

These of course included Mrs. T. D. Knights who is entering upon her fourteenth consecutive year as beloved leader of the society. Mrs. W. M. Hamilton as secretary-treasurer, succeeds Mrs. F. M. Gist who felt it necessary to refuse the office after having served thirteen years, and give all her attention to the Women's Bible class of which she has been the capable teacher for an equal number of years.

Mrs. Knights will appoint her own vice-presidents, three in each quarter of the city, thus giving her twelve active helpers.

Among matters discussed informally were the fact that it was to be offered the county Christian Endeavors on the evening of January 11 and the 6:30 banquet for which the society will cater on the night of January 19 when the Federated Men's Bible classes of Southern California will meet in this city.

The Aid society feels a paragon of pride in the fact that it raised a sum in excess of $1065 during the year 1923.

Chapter A B—P. E. O.
Mrs. G. E. Bruns, Mrs. Mark Lacy and Mrs. A. C. Zaiser will be the hostess group presenting a 1 o'clock luncheon on Monday of next week to members of Chapter A. B. of the P. E. O. club who will gather at Bruns home, 1209 Spurgeon street.

Those who may find it impossible to be present are asked to notify Mrs. Bruns (1207-R) by the latter part of this week.

Ladies' Auxiliary

Meeting at the parish rooms of the Church of the Messiah, Monday January 7 at 2:30 p. m., the Ladies' auxiliary of the church will elect a new president.

Friday afternoon, January 11 at 2:30 o'clock, there will be an Auxiliary tea presented at the parish rooms, to which all members and their families are invited.

Pleasant Reunion of Northville Friends In Nickey Home

A pleasant reunion of old friends of Northville, Minnesota, was staged New Year's day at the F. P. Nickey home, 519 Bush street, when Mr. and Mrs. Nickey were hosts at an elaborately appointed dinner of four courses.

Holiday decorations in brilliant red and green added to the attractiveness of the charming home. Poinsettias flamed in tall jars and baskets while a mass of true eastern holly which Seattle friends had sent down, offered decorative effect.

At the dinner table, covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Nickey, the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Walhall of Hollywood; P. E. Whittemore of Los Angeles, Mr. Whittemore's mother, Mrs. E. Whittemore and sister, Mrs. D. W. Ferguson.

In the afternoon the friendly group was augmented by the arrival of Long Beach friends, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Burton, and the father's mother, Mrs. Flora Nickey. Mrs. Burton was formerly Miss Jeannette Nickey.

Reminiscences of days in Northville and laughing, friendly, chat sped the afternoon of a happy day.

Pleasant Affair Marks New Years Day

County Assessor and Mrs. James Sleeper were hosts at a pleasant family dinner on New Year's day at their home, 629 Spurgeon street, having their children with their families and other relatives as their guests.

The table was prettily decorated with the cottoncane, similar to the holly berry and covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. K. Morrison and Kenneth, Jr., Mrs. Elizabeth Morrison of Tacoma, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sleeper, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sleeper, Boyd Sleeper and Mrs. Mary Brummett.

The day marking the seventy-ninth birthday of Mrs. Sleeper's mother, Mrs. Lucy Madden, the entire party moved to San Juan Capistrano in the afternoon to offer congratulations to Mrs. Madden at the ranch home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Crookshank.

The hosts of friends of Mrs. Sleeper will welcome the news that she has almost regained her health, after an illness lasting nine months.

Midnight Wedding For First 1924 Bride

Embodying a novel idea in the marriage service was the ceremony which united Miss Leola Franey and George L. Leonard just as the chiming of the midnight hour ushered in the New Year.

The happy couple had planned to be pronounced man and wife at the midnight hour and sought the offices of the Rev. J. S. F. Wood at his home on Bush street.

While the ceremony was in progress, the clock struck 12 and since the Rev. Mr. Wood had not yet pronounced their husband and wife, the marriage will go on record as one of January 1, 1924, probably the first Orange county marriage of the year.

Fraternal Brotherhood

Fraternal Brotherhood members and friends are anticipating a delightful affair tonight when the big New Year's social and dancing party will be held at M. W. A. hall.

Dancing will begin at 8 o'clock, the Fraternal Brotherhood orchestra furnishing the musical program.

Household Economics

At the home of Mrs. S. J. Hales, 1727 North Main street, the members of Eboli's fourth section Household Economics will be entertained at luncheon Tuesday, January 8 at 1 o'clock with Mrs. Hales, Mrs. N. E. Lentz and Mrs. C. L. Johnson as hostesses.

Those unable to be present are requested to call Mrs. Hales at 1598 at their earliest convenience.

POULTRY FANCIERS
PLAN SHOW EXHIBIT

Several entries from Orange county will be made in the Los Angeles Poultry show to be held in that city January 8 to 13. Assistant Farm Advisor W. M. Cory, announced today. The exhibit will be held on Washington boulevard at Vermont avenue.

According to L. T. McLean, publicity man for the poultry show, the exhibit this year, is creating more than usual interest among the exhibitors and the general public. Several rare varieties of fowl, birds that are seldom displayed in poultry shows, will be on exhibition, McLean stated. In addition to these there will be displayed a number of peacocks, pheasants, wild birds, canaries and ostriches.

This show will be the final meeting place this year for champions of all previous exhibitions. They will meet for a final supremacy test. The Security National bank has offered a $100 challenge cup as an award in the Rhode Island Red division.

Parking space will be provided free to visitors at the show.

Justice Holds Court
In Half-Hoed Garden

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Standing beside a leafless apple tree in the midst of his half-hoed garden, Justice of the Peace Jacob Harder Jr., of Hayward held a session of court.

With all the solemnity of the regular courtroom Harder heard the plea of guilty made by G. Lusardi, 32 Gilbert street, San Francisco, who had been arrested for speeding, fined him $10, hastily scribbled a receipt on a stray scrap of paper,

FOR INDIGESTIONHome Is Symbol of Heaven, Says
Pastor In Address to Kiwanians

Members of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club today were recalling the analysis of a home as presented by the Rev. W. H. L. Benton, rector of the Church of the Messiah, in addressing the club at its meeting at St. Ann's Inn yesterday. E. F. Westcott acted as chairman of the program. Westcott's associates on the committee were M. B. Wellington and C. E. Walker.

A symposium on "Our Home," "Our City" and "Our Nation" was scheduled, but because of lack of time discussion of the latter subject by H. G. Nelson, principal of Julia A. Lathrop junior high school, was deferred to next week. Declaring home is the first and last place one knows, the Rev. Mr. Benton said the house one lives in is not home.

Home Composition Told. "Home is the atmosphere in and by which you live," said the clergyman. "It is not individual—it is not multiple. It is in three parts, physical, mental and spiritual, the latter being the highest of manhood. Home, father, mother and children—they make the home. It is the only place to get right living. Man or woman living apart do not have home life. Children round out a home and add to happiness."

"Home is the foundation of right living and of communities. A community is no better than a majority of its homes. Home is the source of true happiness and true companionship. How many men make home happy? Far too many think of it just as a place to get a good dinner—or bad—and to sleep. If your home is not happy your life cannot be happy."

Santa Ana Paid Tribute. "Home is a symbol of heaven—and heaven is not as we thought when we were children, 'up yonder,' it is in our heart."

Freeman H. Bloodgood, realtor, followed with a tribute to "Our City."

Pointing out that the component parts of a city are homes, schools, social activities, work and recreation, Bloodgood touched briefly on the five subjects, and closed with the declaration that Santa Ana is the ideal home city. He urged cooperation of the citizens with those in public life in the development of a constructive program for the city. He pointed out the need of more recreational facilities for the city and more main streets into the city.

Plan Church Service. R. R. Miller, who yesterday handled the gavel as president of the club for the first time, announced that members would be expected during the coming year to contribute approximately $500 in fines. He appointed Robert Hernandez as one of the two men who would be held responsible for collection of this sum. The other individual whom Miller will name as assistant to Hernandez in operation of the "coffee pot" was not present and his name was not revealed by the president.

With Miss Ruth Armstrong as accompanist, Miss Josephine Duran of Orange rendered a vocal selection, "The Open Secret," and a whistling solo, "The Invitation Waltz Song."

Members of the club were given a special invitation to attend church services at the Church of the Messiah Sunday night January 13. The invitation was accepted and the Rev. Mr. Benton announced that he would ask the Rev. Otto S. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist church, and other "sky pilot" members of the club, to assist at the services.

PIPELINE TO WHARF
PROJECT IS PENDING

A change in the projected route of oil pipelines to connect Orange county oil fields with a proposed loading wharf at Sunset Beach has caused the National Oil Export company to withdraw its application to the board of supervisors for a pipeline franchise, it was learned today from Attorney Ben E. Tarver, legal representative of the oil company here.

Tarver notified by the company two weeks ago that a change of route was contemplated, asked the supervisors to delay action on the matter until yesterday. He had been informed, he said, that a change of route was contemplated. Today he announced that no word had yet been received from the company, but that an application for a franchise over another route will be substituted, he understood, for the application withdrawn.

WIFE, 23, SAYS 'KID'
TITLE IRKS; SUES

Attempts to break a glass pitcher over his wife's head, threats to shoot her, the tearing of a telephone from the wall and the cutting of wires were attributed to Walter T. Roberson by his wife, Ruth Roberson, whose divorce suit charging cruelty was on file today in the Superior court.

That Roberson, who is 35, indulged in self criticism, for what he termed "marrying a kid," was alleged by Mrs. Roberson, who is 23. The disparity in their ages irked him considerably, she intimated.

Setting forth that a property settlement had been reached, Mrs. Roberson asked for custody of their daughter, aged 3, and $30 per month for the child's support.

The Robersons were married in Los Angeles June 30, 1919, and separated in November, 1923. Attorney Clyde Bishop represents Mrs. Roberson in the divorce proceedings.

MADAME LE BLANC
SUES MRS. COLBERT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Hot words will fly and the theatrical folk of San Francisco will be highly amused if the suit brought by Madame Georgette Le Blanc, the erstwhile wife of Maeterlinck, against Jessica Colbert, manager of the Stage Guild, for $2000 due on a contract, actually comes to trial. Mrs. Colbert, replying to the suit which has been filed by Madame Le Blanc through her counsel, Joseph D. Redding, declared that the French actress had been misrepresented to her.

Madame La Blanc relates that Mrs. Colbert agreed to pay her $3750 for five recitals and that she received but $1750.

"Why," she was represented to be a singer, and she couldn't sing," declared Mrs. Colbert, on being informed of the suit pending against her.

It is Madame Le Blanc, who as the wife of Maurice Maeterlinck, is credited with being an almost indispensable aid to the Belgian playwright in the production of "Blue Bird." Then Madame Le Blanc selected the girl to play the lead who later became Maeterlinck's wife when he left Georgette.

GARDNERVILLE, Nev., Jan. 3.—With 300 Washoe Indians present, the new Indian town of Dresslerville was dedicated with imposing ceremonies recently.

The town lies five miles southeast of Gardnerville and has a population of 200. It is a reservation donated by State Senator Dressler of Douglas County.

BOY DIES TRYING TO FIRE PISTOL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Stephen Slavienki, aged 16, of 1250 Girard street, died at the Mission Emergency Hospital following a gunshot wound in the mouth sustained a short time previously while playing with an automatic pistol. Stephen, in company with his brother Edwin and John Wolch, 12, 98 Bayshore avenue, went to the beach to try out the gun, which one of their playmates had found in the grocery store where he works.

After three attempts to discharge the firearm, young Slavienki grasped the handle with both hands and pulled with all his might. The pistol exploded. With his searchlight Frank saw that Stephen was hurt so badly he couldn't talk, so he ran home and his mother called the police.

The youth died on the operating table. It is thought that the pistol jammed and backfired.

CRIME IN S. F. IS SHOWING DECLINE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—San Francisco is probably the most unpopular city of its size in the world among professional law breakers, Captain of Detectives Matheson said in reviewing the work of the police department for the year just closed.

He pointed out that the 1923 figures will show not more than twenty-six murders, a decrease of eight from the previous year. In 1917 there were fifty-four murders. There has been a decrease in burglaries, robberies and embezzlements.

That the trend may continue downward, measures are being taken for crime prevention as well as apprehension, Captain Matheson stated. The entire population, particularly, merchants, bankers, property owners and residents in down town apartments, has been enlisted in the movement.

bowed with dignity as Lusardi thanked the judge for his courtesy and went back to his hoeling. The open air court was the result of Lusardi's plea to the arresting officer that his case be heard at once, as he must get back to San Francisco immediately on urgent business.

The constable phoned to Harder, who granted the request, and when the two arrived only stopped his work long enough to wipe the sweat of honest toil from his face. He held on to his hoe during the entire proceedings.

Automobile Race Track Is Planned For Otis
Tract at Delhi

INVESTS $100,000

Will Reserve Industrial Sites Along Track of
S. P. Road

Representing an investment said to have been in excess of $100,000, Robert Brown, realtor and subdivider of Santa Ana, and Charles Lloyd and George W. Moore, men prominent in Los Angeles, today had completed negotiations for the purchase of the 110 acre tract near Delhi, owned by William E. Otis, president of the Orange County Trust and Savings bank.

According to a statement today by Brown, consideration now is being given to the development of an automobile race track on forty acres of the tract. The balance, he says, will be subdivided at once. Preparatory to execution of plans, a survey of the tract has been ordered, Brown added.

Pointing out that the tract adjoins, on the east, A. B. Rousseau's subdivision of McFadden Tract No. 1, Brown said that the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric lines were available to the tract, offering splendid facilities for industrial sites.

Sites for industrial will be reserved along the Southern Pacific tracks, which parallel the subdivision on the west boundary.

Consider Proposition
"We have been approached with a proposition for locating a race course on the tract, to provide both automobile and horse racing," said Brown. "We are giving consideration to the proposition. It has been pointed out to us that establishment of such an enterprise would offer to Santa Ana a field badly needed for the staging of big events of an athletic nature. It also has been suggested that race grounds would provide a location for Orange county fairs of the future."

Brown, formerly identified with the Studebaker Automobile agency here, returned to Santa Ana about a year ago, since which time he has been identified with the realty business, maintaining an office here in the Spurgeon building and one in the Title Insurance building, Los Angeles. He is one of the school dividers of the Junior High School.

Santa Ana Man Named Appraiser For U. S. Project

Everett A. White, of Santa Ana, vice president of the California Real Estate association, has been named as one of a committee of seven Southern California realtors selected by Henry P. Barbour, Long Beach, president of the state association, to appraise the value of Craig Ford ranch in the San Fernando valley. The ranch has been offered as a site for a government hospital. The state association was asked by Frank D. Hines, director of the veterans bureau, at Washington, D. C., to name the committee.

"This request from a federal board for assistance is further evidence of appreciation of our organization's standing and responsibility," said White today.

LOAN COMPANY PAYS DIVIDEND

Owners of stock and investment certificates of the Santa Ana Building and Loan association today were receiving checks for semi-annual dividends on stock and interest on the certificates, according to announcement by Cotton Mather, secretary and manager. The total payments in excess of $40,000. The dividend on stock is on the basis of 7 per cent per annum and 6 per cent interest on investment certificates, Mather said.

Pointing out that the company has been operating only nine months, Mather said in addition to the dividend and interest payments, the company had set aside to surplus a very substantial amount.

"In our short life, we have loaned in this vicinity more than $130,000," said the secretary. "There is great satisfaction in an investment in building and loan securities. The returns, considering the factor of absolute safety, are liberal. The investor has the satisfaction of knowing that his money is going to help some worthy family secure a home."

Brother of S. A. Woman Dead at Richmond, Ind.

Friends were today extending their sympathy to Mrs. A. G. Flagg, 1320 North Broadway, and her nephew, John Long of Los Angeles, following the receipt of a telegram announcing the death Sunday, December 30, at Richmond, Ind., of Oliver N. Long, brother of Mrs. Flagg and father of Long.

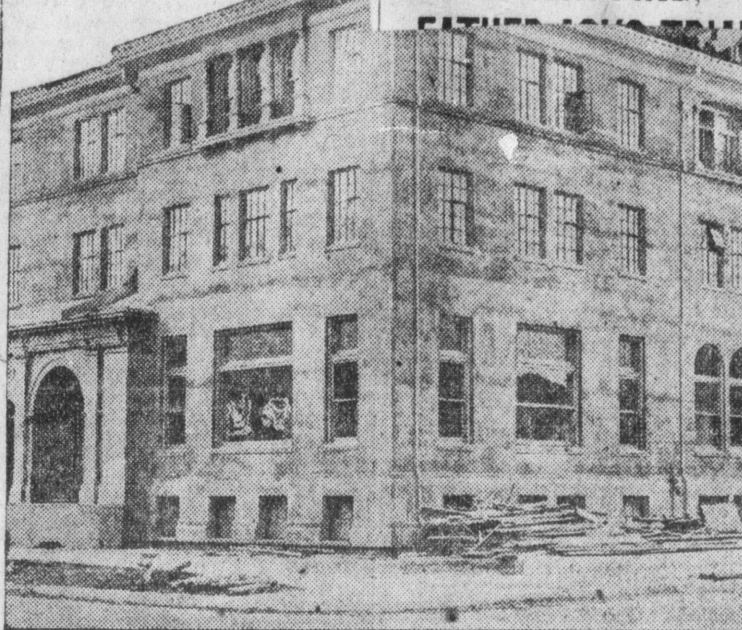

Belief that the death was a sudden one was expressed by Mrs. Flagg, who stated that letters received from her brother's family and written at holiday time made no allusion to any illness. The telegram was received in this city Sunday evening, and was awaiting the Flagg upon their return yesterday from a holiday visit in Bakersfield.

Santa Ana's skyline, like the sand dunes of the desert, is ever shifting, ever changing, but, unlike the sand dunes, every change in Santa Ana's skyline is permanent and is an indication of progress. New structures are constantly rearing their heads above the skyline and the blow of the artisan's hammer is heard throughout the city as busy workmen are climbing about the skeletonlike frame of new business blocks striking blow for the development of the city.

The year 1923 ended, after having been a landscape designer and builder, at his residence and Newcom is seated at ing established a record for building that has never been approached before, with many new business blocks already completed and many others under construction which will be finished within a short time. While the business section of the city was developing the residential section was keeping pace with it. New homes dot the city on every side and workmen are still working at top speed in an endeavor to supply the demand for more homes in Santa Ana.

With the building permits issued during 1923 totalling more than $5,000,000, predictions have been made that during 1924 development will increase to such extent that this record will be eclipsed by approximately $1,000,000. This prediction is shared by real estate men, builders, and merchants.

It is estimated that the population of Santa Ana will increase approximately 5000 during the year. Using the building figures and the population increase for 1923 as a basis it has been estimated that approximately $200 per capita is spent for building by every new resident in the city. Newcomers alone will, according to this estimate, boom building to the extent of $1,000,000. Building of new business blocks, the remodeling of the old, and the constructing of homes here is expected to bring the total well past $6,000,000 during the year.

Water Company Stock Ownership Disputed, File Assessment Suit

An attempt by the Yorba Linda Water company to collect $600.20 in assessments from the Janss investment company of Los Angeles on seventeen shares of stock, which the water company claims the Janss company owns, has been denied by the latter concern, took the form of a superior court suit which was on file here today.

The water company alleged that permission was granted to the Janss company to transfer the seventeen shares of stock to Charles B. Robbins, the transfer purporting to be a part of a sale of seventeen acres of land in the Yorba Linda district.

This sale was never made, the plaintiff alleged, but the Janss company allowed the stock to stand in Robbins' name and refuses to pay assessments, it is claimed. The water company claims the right, under its by-laws, of revoking the transfer and charging the assessments to the original owner.

Judgment for $600.20 and $60 interest is asked in the complaint.

SOLONS ASK BIDS ON NEW COUNTY PRISON

BUSINESS BOOM FORECAST ON NORTHSIDE

With the three remaining residence corners on Washington avenue and Main street sold or under option to parties who look upon them as site for future business building construction and paving of Seventeenth street west from Ross street, Santa Ana, to Westminster virtually assured, prediction was made here today by Freeman H. Bloodgood that both of these streets are destined to become active business thoroughfares at no distant date in the future.

Mrs. George Carroll, who a few days ago completed negotiations with A. W. Rutan for the purchase of his home on the northwest corner of Washington and Main, has sold the property to the Townsend Motor company, local distributor for the Hudson and Essex automobiles, for $23,000 an advance of $2000. Mrs. Carroll has purchased the F. D. Plavan residence at 508 South Birch and, with her family, will move from her ranch at the Culver corner. She recently sold the latter property.

Plan For Future
According to R. W. Townsend, of the Townsend Motor company, his company has no building plans at this time, but made the purchase with a view to erecting at a later date a garage building.

Dr. C. D. Ball has sold his home place, on the southeast corner of the two streets, to M. C. Hoyt, of 1414 Spurgeon street, for $30,000. The property has a frontage of 121

More Than 1000 Real Estate Men To Lose Permits

More than 1000 real estate brokers in California will be denied 1924 licenses, according to a statement issued by Edwin T. Keiser, state real estate commissioner. He said they would be denied for various reasons, such as dishonest practice, misrepresentation and failure to conform to the sign law. "Every broker must obey the law—I have no option but to enforce it," Keiser said.

Pointing out that 63,000 licenses were issued in 1923, Keiser said that he believed the number would be exceeded in 1924, in 1922, he said, 40,000 dealers were licensed.

National Realtor Will Visit State

William E. Herren, field secretary of the National association of Real Estate Boards, is expected to visit California some time this month, according to announcement by Glenn E. Willaman, secretary of the California Real Estate Association. Willaman is arranging a schedule for visits by the national secretary to the eighty-five member boards of the national organization in California.

Colored Realtors Form L. A. Board

Fifty-three colored real estate dealers, residing mainly in the east side district of Los Angeles, have formed a real estate board, and have sought several offices in the state association according to information reaching this city from Glenn D. Willaman, secretary of the California Real Estate association.

CONDEMNATION PAVING WORK VALUES ARE EXPLAINED OF 1923 IS CLASSIFIED

Dealing with the acquisition of property, President Harry Goldstone of the Chicago Real Estate board, says that ownership of property, as vested, is a constitutional right, and provides that no property can be taken without just compensation.

In ascertaining the values of properties taken or damaged, all possible facts should be presented to the jury, Mr. Goldstone says. Shrewd attorneys will attempt to fix a value on the land for its highest and best use, and then fix a structural value on the building it is said.

"Such a procedure," the real estate board official asserts, "makes the combined appraisal much higher than the actual value of the property. Many people believe that building on a piece of land is the source of income. This is a fallacy as the income producing power is in the land and not in the building."

"In my opinion, there can be but one fair valuation, which, if properly made, can be used for any purpose or for any side of the case. One of the bugaboos of taking land by condemnation is not so much the value of the land taken but rather the question of damages to the remainder or the part not taken."

"It is often claimed that the part taken is more valuable than the part remaining and that, therefore, a greater sum should be paid. Fundamentally, every part or parcel of

BOOSTERS OF HARBOR ARE IN FAVOR OF SWING PLAN

Solon Recommends Drive
To Secure Shipping
For Port Here

Commercial Secretary In Interview Outlines Drive
Possibility

Boosters for Orange county harbor are today voicing their sanction of a suggestion made recently by Congressman Phil D. Swing that the best argument that the county could offer in favor of government aid in developing the harbor would be a creditable showing of actual shipments being regularly made through the port. He said that these shipments would do much to facilitate work in Washington when the next public hearing on Orange county's harbor and the possibility of securing government aid is held. He also suggested that Orange county business men conduct a campaign to popularize the harbor by demanding that merchandise be shipped to this point by water be shipped through the Orange county harbor and advertise the fact that such merchandise are being received in the county's own port.

James C. Metzgar, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who first received word that another public hearing on the harbor was promised in Washington, said, "The harbor will not make itself. It depends on the people of Orange county whether it is ever developed into a commercial port of world importance or whether it is allowed to remain as it is at present. The development of the harbor depends on the people of today and not on the future generations."

"The plan of securing actual business for the port in order to show the solons that the harbor is something more than an idea is excellent. It is an excellent plan and a campaign among the merchants of the county demanding that merchandise be shipped to Orange county by way of the Orange county harbor would be a big help in the fight to secure government aid. Congress will have to be shown the possibilities of the harbor before it can be expected to favor any method of extending government aid to the project. It is up to the business men of the county to get back of the movement to show actual business. They should do this even at the cost of inconveniencing themselves by specifying that merchandise should be shipped to the local port."

Freeman H. Bloodgood, prominent local realtor and harbor booster, said, "I think that the plan suggested by Congressman Swing is good. Orange county should be able to show actual shipping coming into the harbor when Congress is asked to assist in the further development of the project. The proof in the pudding is the eating and Orange county must first eat some of the pudding before expecting the government to eat it."

"The idea advanced by Mr. Swing that merchants of the county insist on having merchandise shipped to them by way of the Orange county harbor may inconvenience them for a short time but I believe that in the end they will find that by advertising merchandise shipped into the district through Orange county harbor they will benefit financially. Goods marked 'Received through Orange County Harbor' will have the same standing in this county as has merchandise sold in all parts of the nation labeled 'Made in U. S. A.'"

"Using our own port will save time, I believe, as at present shipments of goods are forced to lie on the wharves at Wilmington and San Pedro while boats are anchored in the outer harbor for as much as ten days waiting for wharfage to load. I believe that at present it is only a matter of settling on a policy for demanding shipment through the harbor and settling on a route before merchandise actually begins to arrive at Orange County Harbor."

feet on Main and depth of 148 feet along Washington avenue and Twelfth street. E. M. Smiley was the agent in the transaction.

Hoyt said today that he had bought the property as an investment and that he anticipated business development on North Main street. He also declared that he will build to suit any responsible tenant. Dr. Ball will continue tenancy of his home place for at least four months, he having taken a lease for that period.

The Ira Chandler property, on the southwest corner, and now handled as an estate matter, has been optioned to two local business men, became definitely known today. If the deal is consummated, the new owners will establish a business enterprise on the corner. The property has a frontage on Main street of 165 feet and the option price is reported at $35,000.

"Since coming here eight years ago have been watching developments on North Main street and have purchased the Dr. Ball property in the belief that North Main street will duplicate the record of Western avenue in Los Angeles," said Hoyt.

"In my opinion it is possible that there will be a big business development around the corner of Seventeenth and Main streets. Both are main arteries into the city and with Seventeenth paved that street will bear heavy traffic."

Pointing out that downtown traffic congestion is becoming a serious menace to the close-in business district, Bloodgood said that it is not without the possibilities of some man with a vision locating a big department store on one of the corners of the intersection of these two streets and getting away with a big volume of business. He further pointed out that should such an enterprise develop it probably would have a very important influence in determining the future business section developments of the city.

Paving Is Boon
"Paving of Seventeenth street as contemplated would open a paved highway from the foothills east of the city to San Pedro," said Bloodgood. "Traffic from Long Beach and that developing west of the river and in Garden Grove naturally would come into the city over Seventeenth, the most direct route, with the result that Seventeenth would offer possibility for development of a real business district."

Low values, as compared with business lot values in the close-in district, Bloodgood said, would be a strong inducement to business locations at the corner.

Pointing to quoted prices on the properties sold and optioned at Washington and Main as approximating $350 per front foot, Bloodgood expressed the belief that prices on Seventeenth and Main would rule lower.

F. M. Robinson, assistant cashier of the First National bank, and the owner of the southeast corner of Seventeenth and Main streets, said today that front foot value on that corner probably would range from $200 to $300, depending to some extent on house improvements.

tract on South Main street.

According to Brown, Lloyd is rated as a millionaire. He was the founder of the iron works on Los Angeles street operated by the Waterhouse-Lester company. He has been a resident of Los Angeles for forty years and is said to own a large amount of valuable business property in Los Angeles.

Moore was one of the organizers of the Republic Motor Truck company, Alma, Michigan, said to be one of the largest of the truck manufacturing companies. He has been living in Los Angeles for five years.

Here from Los Angeles today, Moore said that he and his associate in Los Angeles, had been attracted to this city by the possibility of big development with further improvement of Newport Harbor.

"Santa Ana has a very bright future," said Moore. "With a rich back country and advantages not possessed by all the cities of the southland, Santa Ana's future is certain. Newport bay is a natural harbor and the expenditure of one or two million dollars will make it one of the biggest assets of the county. With its proper development Santa Ana and Orange county will grow and expand—and my impression of the residents of the county is that they have foresight enough to value the value of the harbor and put their energy back of efforts for further improvement."

ELECTRIC EELS TO ROUT JACK FROST. PLAN

The Los Angeles Times today gave prominent space to the following:

"ORANGE, Jan. 2.—(To the Editor of the Times:) I read with great interest of the development of the illuminating hybrid insect, probably of the Chrysomelidae family crossed with the Phlegonothus Quinquemaculatus. As the combined names of these two species would prove unwieldy to the layman, I respectfully suggest to Mr. Phillips, the propagator, that he abbreviate the first name given above and call the hybrid, 'Some-thing,' or, in honor of the discoverer, 'Somelie Philippi!'"

"In this connection, you will be surprised to learn that I have been working along similar lines, but with a different end in view."

"Several years ago there was a rather severe frost in some portions of Southern California. Observing the beautiful oranges and lemons growing unharmed in Orange county after this freeze, and feeling sorry for the less favored districts, (it never freezes in Orange county,) I resolved to try to find some way to ameliorate the frost damage in future years."

"I experimented for some time with the Lampyrus Noctiluca, or glow worm. However, after repeated experiments, I was obliged to discontinue work along this line, for although they would emit light, I could not get them to give off heat without previously connecting them to an electric battery, and charging each specimen for half an hour. Obvious difficulties made this method impractical."

"I am now experimenting with electric eels; importing specimens with a high potential of electric energy and mating them. Continuing this process through several generations, I have evolved an eel that when put into a shallow furrow filled with water in an orange orchard and excited by a bit of raw meat, will parboil himself in five minutes by the heat he generates."

"I am now at work on an electro-thermostatic device which will obviate this overheating by proper regulation. This device will be ready by next winter and, with a sufficient stock of eels, the future of the citrus industry looks rosy. Indeed."

"Yours for the advancement of natural science."

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Charles Stack's first wife was a wonderful cook and his second wife was young and charming, but now Charles Stack is in Tombs prison without the companionship of either. Stack made the mistake of marrying his young and charming one while he was still the husband of his first. He might not be in the Tombs if he had not visited his first wife's home to eat her good cooking. But the lure of apple sauce and doughnuts was too strong. He was arrested on the complaint of wife No. 1.

MAN RUN DOWN BY AN AUTO
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—James E. Rickett, of 4093 Seventeenth street suffered a fracture of several ribs and bruises and abrasions about the face and body when he was struck down at Hyde and Fulton streets by an automobile. He was treated at the Central emergency hospital. The identity of the driver was not learned.

Hall calls Dowie the father of the lace industry in America, as he started the first factory in this county. He cites as proof of Dowie's honesty the fact that though he handled millions he left an estate to his family of but little more than a hundred thousand dollars. Mrs. Dowie is now a resident of Los Angeles, and the son, once called the "great unknissed," is an Episcopal minister in Arizona. Since leaving the Christian Catholic church Hall has been doing evangelistic work of a denominational character. He has been on the evangelistic platform for twenty-five years and has preached in every part of the union.

Sheriff Convicted Of Rum Conspiracy

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 3.—Sheriff Edmond W. Grant of Arrostock county and Willard S. Lewin, a Houlton attorney, were convicted by a federal jury of conspiracy to defeat the operation of the national prohibition laws and were sentenced to serve two years each in the federal prison at Atlanta. Both filed exceptions and provided bail.

Charles E. Calvin of Houlton testified that he, in partnership with Richard Verker of Houlton, had paid Grant and Lewin $25 a month for an absolute monopoly of the liquor trade in Houlton.

THIS WOMAN RELIEVED FROM SUFFERING

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Story

Dover, Del.—"I wish every woman would take your wonderful medicine as it has done so much good to me. I had cramps and faint spells and very bad pains. One day I was over to my neighbor's house and she told me I ought to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I went to the store on my way home and got a bottle, and took the first dose before supper. I have been taking it ever since, and you can hardly believe how different I feel. I had just wanted to lie in bed all the time, and when I started to brush up I would give out in about ten minutes. So you know how badly I felt. I used to go to bed at eight and get up at seven, still tired. Now I can work all day and stay up until eleven, and feel all right all the time. My housework is all I do in summer, but in winter I work in a factory. I have told a good many of my friends, and I have had three come to me and tell me they wouldn't do without the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. SAMUEL MURPHY, 219 Cecil St., Dover, Delaware.

SEA PREFERRED TO WIFE; NAVAL MAN DIVORCED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Lieutenant Charles C. Orr, U. S. N., retired, was wedded to the sea and could not resign himself to any other mate, his pretty wife, Mrs. Caroline Lane Orr, gown model in a local fashionable store, told Superior Judge Graham in winning a divorce.

Encountering Orr a short time ago on Bush street, after he had been away from her since November 20, 1922, when, she states, he deserted her, Mrs. Orr quotes her husband as announcing that he was not destined for married life and preferred to "follow the sea."

The young wife's mother, who corroborated her daughter's testimony, rejected Judge Graham's proposal for an attempt at reconciliation, declaring that Mrs. Orr and her husband had not been happy during their brief married life because the latter spent too many evenings in card games.

The Orrs were married in Seattle on August 28, 1919, while the young naval officer was on a seven months' furlough. One morning in November, three years later, Mrs. Orr relates that she awoke to discover her husband missing. She did not see him for three weeks and then he declined to return to her, the pretty wife averred.

Needs No Alimony.
Mrs. Orr, who was represented by Attorney Harold L. Levin, refused any alimony and informed Judge Graham that her vocation of displaying modish gowns upon her form amply provided for her needs. She lives at 1080 Bush street.

Marital Troubles of Ex-Pastor to be Aired

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—The marital troubles of Robert D. Van Tassel, former minister, but later a business man, and Anna Belle Van Tassel, also an ordained minister, are to be heard again in the superior court of Alameda county, according to a divorce complaint filed in Oakland.

Mrs. Van Tassel last year, in a suit for separate maintenance, won a decision and was given $150 a month. It is now alleged that Van Tassel has left California and is not amenable to a judgment for separate maintenance.

The charges in the divorce complaint are virtually the same as those enumerated in the separate maintenance suit. The petition sets out that Van Tassel was greatly interested in "the other woman," named as Mrs. Kathleen Watkins, former clerk in a branch postoffice in Oakland, and that her husband treated her with great cruelty.

Spectacular Fire Damages Battleship

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Fire which broke out in the hold of the obsolete Battleship Rhode Island, docked off the Union Construction company plant at the foot of Fourteenth street, Oakland, developed into a spectacular blaze.

The blaze was discovered by watchmen at the plant, who summoned the Oakland city fire department, and the high pressure hoses were played on the blazing dreadnaught for two hours before it was brought under control.

The exact origin of the fire was not determined. The Rhode Island was sold to the construction company and is being junked. No estimate of the damages could be obtained.

John Sandow, facing a jury trial for forgery today in Superior Judge R. Y. SOUTHLAND ROTARY CLUBS ARE GUESTS

Twenty-five Santa Ana Rotarians and their wives today were making plans for attending, at the Biltmore hotel, Los Angeles, Saturday evening, the first annual reception of the clubs of that city, according to announcement made today by Robert Conway, secretary of the Santa Ana club.

Pointing out that the Los Angeles club is inaugurating the annual reception, Conway said that members of twenty-five clubs in Southern California had been extended invitations.

Clubs at Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange and Huntington Beach also have been extended invitations, and Conway said it is expected each club will send representative delegations.

Starting at 8:30 p. m., the reception will include a program of high-class entertainment and dancing, according to Conway.

plea, set the date of trial for January 15. Shefflin was released from custody on his own recognizance.

His son, Hugh, who was arrested at the same time, and who pleaded guilty to a similar charge at his arraignment yesterday, was fined $300. He paid the fine. The elder Shefflin was said to have claimed that he did not know that there was liquor in the house.

When the house at 816 West Sixth street was raided by Patrolman F. G. Yoder and a private detective about ten gallons of liquor, a quantity of bottles, a government hydrometer, a quantity of coloring and flavoring extract, bottling equipment, and several unused Gordon Gin bottle labels were confiscated, authorities declared.

Couple Entertain 150 On Golden Anniversary

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—In observance of their fiftieth year of married life, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Roth, who live at the Fairmont hotel, received more than 150 invited guests, including friends and relatives, at the hotel. Roth, who is a pioneer in San Francisco busness, began his mercantile career in this city sixty-four years ago. He is president of the California Tallow Works and was an early member of the Roth & Blum Packing company. His San Francisco experience, however, began with a clerkship with the firm of Vardier, Scollier, Kaindler & Co., a dry goods firm now doing business, as the City of Paris. Present at the reception were the Roths' two children, Lester L. Roth and Mrs. Rennee Roth Bransten, wife of Manfred Bransten, and four grandchildren. Both the golden wedding celebrants are well beyond three score and ten.

"IF-ye gods!-IF"

FOR TWENTY YEARS I subdivided property in Los Angeles, Pasadena and Hollywood, property that is worth untold millions today! IF I had had brains enough to SELL MYSELF a slice of ground here and there when I had the chance, I'd be a multi-millionaire today! Southern California is chuck full of people today who could say the same thing. And the growth here has only really started in the past few years. The opportunity today is a thousand-fold better, surer, swifter than it was 20 years ago. Are we who are on the ground now going to learn our lesson? I am, for one. What money I have is right down here in McFadden Tract No. 4 and it's going to stay there for two or three years at least. It means quite a lot to many people to put their money down alongside of A. B. Roussele's!

McFadden Tract No. 4

Why, if I had put my money into lots in Santa Ana as recent as 2, 3, 5 or 10 years ago, I would be wealthy today. It's going to be different a few years from now—I have the lots now in McFadden Tract No. 4 and I don't plan to have any "IF's" staring me in the face in my old age!

I figure that McFadden Tract No. 4 has the real future in Santa Ana. It lies in the direction of Orange County Harbor; is adjacent to Santa Ana's new industrial sections; and I believe that South Main street will be the great business street of Santa Ana. Nothing can hold it back!

Buyers From 19 States $10 Down, $10 Month

It is interesting to note that tourists from 19 states have purchased in McFadden Tract No. 4. Many of them are building; many have gone back East, planning to come back in a couple of years and have a valuable home all ready for them. Think it over!

Doesn't take much money to buy a lot in McFadden Tract No. 4—it is for the person of moderate means. And it is so easy to pay for it at the rate of $10 a month that there is nothing to it. It shouldn't take much of an effort to get a real start here.

10 New Homes Last Week $200 Down for a Home

Ten new homes were started last week in McFadden Tract No. 4. To my knowledge there are 22 other new homes planned to be built at once. That sure means that values are going up. I'll build you a home myself for only $200 down and $25 a month.

I have it worked out now so that I can build you a nice little home for $200 down, the balance to be paid at $25 a month. You could build on the back of the lot if you wanted to—and the restrictions on the front of the lot are fair enough at $2,000.

$50,000.00 Being Spent Auto Absolutely Free

You can SEE your improvements in McFadden Tract No. 4. $50,000 is coming out of my pocket for improvements. The gravelled streets are already in, the water pipes are all laid, the sidewalks are soon going to be finished; many homes are already completed.

A lot of people think they must buy something to get a chance on the Star Touring Car to be given away March 1st. Not so. All in the world you have to do is to come down to 2007 South Main and register—just put your name down—not a blessed thing to buy or to obligate yourself to.

PROSPERITY IS SEEN IN 1924 FOR RAILS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Satisfaction with the accomplishments of the railroads of the United States during the past year and optimism for 1924 is expressed in a statement issued by President William Sproule of the Southern Pacific company. The roads have done the biggest business in the history of the nation, he says.

"In general business this has been a good year and the same general prosperity should continue during 1924," said Sproule. "The railroads have been called upon to move the greatest volume of business in the history of the country and the public is in accord upon the fact that it has been moved in a way that responds to the business wants of the people for fair dispatch."

Spent $1,300,000,000.

Sproule says the railroads expended $1,300,000,000 during 1923 to buy locomotives, passenger cars, freight cars, roadway and other machinery and shops and shop tools.

"When the railroads earn money by their services, it is distributed back among the people in wages and in payment for rolling stock, materials for upkeep and expansion and for general supplies," Sproule says.

"History is merely repeating itself," the statement continues. "Prosperity arrives whenever the railroads and the people work together in the activities of business. The railroads and the people using them have shown a fine spirit of

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

POMONA—Suspecting that W. F. Hewlett may not use humane methods in killing the butterflies on his butterfly farm at Upland, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals proposes to investigate Hewlett's industry. Although the society's books do not divulge the approved method of bringing about "humane death for butterflies," it is understood that inducing drug which kills through slumber is advised in putting an end to the winged beauties in which Hewlett deals.

RIVERSIDE—Completion of the new Rubidoux bridge over the Santa Ana river at a cost of approximately $120,000, and finishing of the survey which it is expected, will result in the paving of the Jack-rabbit trail during 1924, are two of the year's major accomplishments of the Riverside county board of supervisors, the county surveyor's office under A. C. Fulmer and the county road department under W. S. Canner.

POMONA—Picking of the navel orange crop of the Pomona district will be under full headway early this week, and the packing houses of this district will all be in operation a week later, it was stated yesterday at the San Antonio Fruit Exchange, through which most of the fruit of the Pomona district is marketed. Preliminary estimates of the various packing associations indicated a crop of approximately 4,400 cars from groves under the seven packing associations affiliated with the San Antonio exchange. On the basis of last season's prices, which are expected to obtain this season, the return from the crop would have been approximately $4,576,000.

SAN PEDRO — The Zoplot of co-operation during 1923, which has been helpful to all. The same helpful spirit of co-operation throughout 1924 will bring new achievements and new prosperity.

Denies Earnings Guaranteed. A plea to be rid of meddlesome legislation in regard to railroads was made by Sproule. "If the railroads were only permitted to do their work in confidence that they could go ahead in a businesslike way without new and unknown legislation, that condition of confidence would probably be the greatest aid to the continuance of prosperity. Every man of business knows that if the rules under which he does business are subject to change or threat of change he seeks 'safety first' by taking no chances. Yet the railroads are expected to go forward and find the money at the very time they are threatened with some new kind of change.

"There is no guaranty of earnings in the Transportation Act or anywhere else," said Sproule, "and the roads have a right to object to loose statements that the railroads have their earnings guaranteed to them."

Danzig, the largest motor-ship in the world and the first vessel under the flag of the Free City of Danzig to enter the Pacific, was anchored in this harbor recently. Bright and shining from bow to stern, towering above all other vessels in the harbor and with a brilliant ensign flying from her stern, this vessel presented a striking appearance. The Zoplot has a capacity for 5,040,000 gallons of petroleum in her hold.

POMONA—O. W. Norton was elected president of the Pomona Valley Poultry Breeders' association at the annual meeting of that organization. Other officers chosen for the new year follow: First vice-president, George Williams; second vice president, M. L. Butterfield, Chino; secretary, Mrs. J. E. Adamson; treasurer, J. L. Lehman, Laverne. I. R. Darrow was the principal speaker. He spoke on "Electric Brooders."

PASADENA—Because a number of school children have been injured by speeding motorists who pass Pasadena schools, the Pasadena Board of Education, petitioned the City Directors to adopt an ordinance requiring automobiles to come to a full stop at streets adjacent to school buildings. The petition cited the fact that a similar system was now in operation in Los Angeles and was meeting with success.

SAWTELLE.—Col. O. K. Marshall, governor of the Soldiers' Home, discussing improvements for the ensuing year declared the most pressing need is a new fire-proof hospital, which authorities expect to see erected during the course of the next few months.

Other improvements contemplated are ornamental entrances and fences for the home cemetery, with improved landscape gardens. A new $25,000 sprinkler system which has been purchased for the home cemetery is to be installed immediately, authorities said.

LANKERSHIM — Chief R. J. Scott of the Los Angeles fire department visited Lankershim and surveyed the community with a view to establishing quarters here and installing equipment for use in fighting fires. Until that is done the service will be supplied by a standard Ford equipment, to be manned by a semivolunteer organization directed by a representative of the paid fire department.

MONROVIA — The fruit-packing houses in this vicinity began packing navel oranges in full swing last week, and the first carloads have been shipped. The oranges are running medium to small, according to R. T. Chew, manager of the Duarte-Monrovia Fruit Exchange.

LONG BEACH—Newsboys and saloonkeepers came into the same category in the city council here when Councilman Alexander Beck introduced an ordinance that will regulate the hours of sale for newspapers on Long Beach streets. Saloons were regulated in much the same manner as in the pre-Prohibition days. The first draft of

EXTRA SESSION OF SOLONS ON SPEED URGED

Calling upon Governor Friend W. Richardson to summon the legislature into special session for the purpose of enacting emergency legislation covering the patrol of highways by motorcycle officers, a resolution recently adopted by the Ventura county board of supervisors was on file with the Orange county supervisors today.

Declaring that, since the patrol system collapsed with the appellate court decisions holding salary provisions of the Breed act to be invalid, "the lives and property of the traveling public are constantly jeopardized and our improved highways are being rapidly destroyed by fast-moving and overloaded trucks," the resolution was read before the local board meeting late yesterday.

According to the resolution, the special session of the legislature was desired "to pass such laws as may provide adequate patrolling of public highways throughout the state."

The resolution was filed without comment from local board members, who recently took action to reinstate the traffic officers in Orange county as deputy sheriffs, thus providing protection that was removed by the court decisions on the state motor vehicle act.

Beck's proposed ordinance was read to the council and was then withdrawn for composition in legal form.

PASADENA—Laurence B. Valk, renowned architect and said to be the oldest member of this profession in Southern California, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. M. Borden, 631 Pine street, Altadena, Wednesday. He was 86 years of age.

REDLANDS—While the property owned by Mrs. W. W. Summerville on Eureka street, just south of Clark street, a three-apartment house, was in process of being transferred to Mrs. J. Quizenbury, the building caught fire. Damage of about $1000 was done. The principals in the transfer were in the bank signing the papers when the fire bell rang. The property was fully insured and the deal will stand if the insurance company pays for damage.

SANTA FE ROAD OPENS DOUBLE TRACK WORK

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 3.—Building of forty miles of Santa Fe double-track between Hicks, a station twelve miles south of Barstow, and Summit, this county, will begin during January. A large crew of engineers is now at work completing the survey and the location of the new line.

Forty miles of track will be constructed and will cost more than $5,000,000.

This stretch of new track will close the last gap in the double-track from San Bernardino to Winslow, Arizona. Work was completed this year on the double-tracking between Daggett and Goffs, this county, and additional work in Arizona is now being completed.

Construction crews will be moved from Arizona to do the work between Hicks and Summit. The double-track on this stretch involves a number of engineering problems and at some points the new line will cross the old line on overhead crossings. There is some heavy grade between Victorville and Summit. Between Victorville and Hicks the two tracks will parallel each other.

San Bernardino will be the base for the movement of supplies and men to the construction work. One of the main camps will be located at Victorville. It is expected. The work will probably require the major portion of the year of 1924.

Declares Every Year Should be Leap Year

SPOKANE, Jan. 3.—Woman's right to postpone marriage, should be accorded her in fact, not only during leap year but at all times, Mrs. W. E. Barnhart, president of the Spokane Woman's club, asserted in a newspaper interview.

"The reason many girls who would build up wonderful homes go through life without marrying is that they are not able to make their love known to the right man," Mrs. Barnhart said.

"In many cases, through lack of finances or because of bashfulness, the 'right' man has held back, when if the way were made easy or clear to him he would joyfully welcome matrimony.

"Give the woman the right to postpone marriage to the man she believes can make her happiest."

Suspect Death Due to Overdose of Morphine

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Mrs. Margaret Allen, undergraduate nurse, was found dead under her bed last night.

Death had apparently come as the result of an overdose of morphine, as a bottle half-filled with morphine tablets was in the room. As there were no bruises on the body, which was fully clothed, the police were unable to account for the manner in which the body got under the bed.

A letter was found addressed to her husband, H. D. Allen, a railway clerk at Carpenter, Miss.

2 PRISONERS HURT IN ESCAPE ATTEMPT

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Willard Carothers and H. C. Phillips, prisoners in the county jail, are suffering from severe injuries today as the result of a twenty-foot fall yesterday, when a rope of blankets, with which they were attempting an escape, broke and dropped them to the bars of their cell and used the pavement.

Crothers and Phillips had sawed their bedding to make a rope, which was not strong enough to hold the weight of both men.

A third prisoner, Hugh Walser, who was evidently contemplating escape through the same avenue, was caught before he got out of the jail.

Bay City Man Claims Mysterious Shooting

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Shot and wounded seriously in a manner that puzzled both him and police, K. F. Lunde, of 507 Kirkham street, was found lying at Seventh and Irving streets by residents of the vicinity, who were attracted by the sounds of firing.

Lunde told the police that he was walking home when at Seventh and Irving an automobile drew up at the curb beside him and a man leaped out. The man flashed a gun and shouted:

"Do you want to get shot?"

Lunde began to run, and his assailant fired at him point blank five or six times. One of the shots entered Lunde's groin, and he is in a serious condition in Park Emergency hospital.

Lunde could assign no motive for the shooting.

Gloves were one of the favorite New Year's gift among the English people.

ELKS PREPARING FOR VISIT OF HIGH RULER

Eager to extend their distinguished guest every courtesy while he is here, Santa Ana and Orange county Elks today were completing arrangements to entertain James G. McFarland, grand exalted ruler of the B. P. O. E. who is scheduled to arrive in Santa Ana next Saturday at 4 p. m. McFarland accompanied by Mrs. McFarland and Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson, will motor to Santa Ana from San Diego.

"According to present plans," said Secretary W. W. Wassor of Santa Ana, Anaheim and Orange lodges will meet Grand Exalted Ruler McFarland at Cardiff, below Oceanside, for luncheon next Saturday. Officers of the San Diego county group.

"Leaving Cardiff immediately after lunch, the party will drive to Santa Ana, arriving here about 4 p. m. We will bring the exalted ruler directly to the club rooms. At this time we wish to have as many of our members as possible in the clubrooms to greet McFarland. He will remain with us for an hour or two.

"In the evening Anaheim lodge, playing host to McFarland and the officers of Santa Ana and Orange lodges, will entertain the exalted ruler at 6:30 dinner. At 8 p. m. the Anaheim lodge will throw open its clubrooms to members of Santa Ana and Orange lodges, as well as other visiting members, who will greet McFarland when he delivers the principal address of the evening in the Mother Colony lodge rooms Santa Ana, Orange and Anaheim will combine in entertaining features. Refreshments will be served."

While on the Pacific coast McFarland and Secretary Robinson will visit San Francisco and other California cities. McFarland, described as a forceful speaker, will address many of the western lodges before returning to his home in Watertown, S. D. The grand exalted ruler, who reviewed the Rose Tournament parade at Santa New Year's day, was said to be delighted with the showing made by the antlered herd. There were more than twenty B.P.O.E. floats in line.

NARCOTIC EVIL SEEN AS CLUE IN SHOOTING

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Narcotics, the hydra-headed enemy of more than one member of Hollywood filmdom has entered the investigation into the shooting of Courtland S. Dines.

Possibility of drugs having played a part in the tragedy which led up to Horace A. Greer, Mabel Normand's chauffeur, attempting to kill the wealthy oil man, was admitted today by police who are seeking a motive for the crime.

That Greer was questioned at length regarding any knowledge he might have had as to whether drugs featured in the parties held by principals in the triangular affair was admitted by Assistant Captain Herman Cline, to the United Press.

Recognized by Officer.

Possibility that Greer himself might have been at one time connected with the drug traffic, either as an addict or a dealer, was seen in his recognition by Detective Keating of the narcotics squad.

Keating "spotted" Greer the instant he saw him, and placed him as a one-time resident of Buffalo, who had come under his observation during probes in the eastern city.

Examination into the shooting, for the time being at least, is about ended, Cline said today. With a confession on file, signed by Greer, there remains little probing to do, while pressing the charges against him will necessarily await the outcome of Dines' injuries.

Belief that Greer shot Dines in the back in a deliberate attempt to take his life, giving impetus to the theory that the chauffeur was crazed with jealousy, was expressed today by Detective Lieutenant Charles Jarvis.

The bullet that plowed its way through the oil man's lung had a downward range, from the back to the front, which would have been impossible had the men been facing each other, Jarvis contended.

Dines does not recall just how he was standing, he told Jarvis. He remembered that he did not see the pistol flash and believed it probable that he had turned when Greer shot.

The state's case against the chauffeur will be greatly strengthened if it is proven Greer attacked the film stars' host from the rear. That the chauffeur armed himself and, in jealous anger, went to Dines' apartment with the gelatin erate intention of shooting him is the prosecution's claim, given weight by the latest development.

Shocked by the tragedy which ended the New Year's party, at which Edna Purviance, another prominent film actress, was present, and facing the necessity of an "appendicitis operation" at an early date, Miss Normand was taken to the hospital late last night by her attending physician. When the operation will be performed had not been determined today.

Hollywood interest today was turning toward the east, awaiting the arrival of Will H. Hays, film-dom's moral guardian, who is speeding westward. That the Dines shooting influenced his hurried departure Hayes, through his local representative, has denied, although it is felt sure here that he will conduct some sort of an investigation of the affair upon his arrival.

Police In Quandary Over Destitute Man

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—The police are puzzling today over what to do with Amos McWilliams, 35, who is destitute, and unable to read, write, hear or speak.

McWilliams was brought to Los Angeles from Oklahoma by his brother several weeks ago, and the brother has disappeared, according to the police.

To indicate that he wants work as a painter he showed some pictures to an officer, showing himself on a scaffold painting a house.

SAYS CANAL TRADE HURTING RAILROADS

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 3.—Unless transcontinental railroads serving the Northwest are given so-called "fourth section" relief to permit them to meet the inter-coastal water competition, or unless some unforeseen circumstances arise whereby greater railroad traffic is developed, a curtailment in activities of roads in the territory will come in the near future, according to traffic men who have been reviewing the situation developing in railroad transportation.

Because of water competition, railroads of the Northwest are probably the hardest hit in the entire country.

One railroad official complained that during the first eight months of this year Northwest railroads could not have earned more than 1 per cent, on their valuation without the support of branch lines or mail lines in other territories.

Eighty per cent of the west-bound transcontinental business has been diverted from rail lines to the intercoastal steamship lines, he pointed out.

Prior to the opening of the Panama Canal, approximately 25 per cent of equipment moved west empty for eastbound loading. However, at the present time it is running 65 to 70 per cent.

All rail lumber business has been fairly good until the last six days, but within that time it has dropped off approximately 50 per cent, according to authorities of one leading road.

Fourth section relief, in effect for thirty years prior to the taking over of the railroads by the Government during the war, would permit the making of a lower rate to terminal points than to intermediate territories, and enable transportation lines to obtain a larger amount of west-bound traffic for competition with the steamship lines, according to the contention of the railroads.

They also argue that intercoastal and coastwise vessels should be placed under the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, as they have an advantage in the matter of rates, unrestricted as they are at present.

The railroad chiefs also point out that there is a vast amount of territory in the Northwest awaiting development with the expansion of railroads. Expansion, however, is beyond consideration when the roads are not prosperous.

Mother And 2 Sons Struck Down by Auto

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—A mother was near death and her two young sons were seriously injured when they were struck down at Clay and Seventh streets, Oakland, by an automobile which sped away after the accident. At the Oakland Emergency hospital the woman gave her name as Mrs. Carnacion Abagio, but because of her intense suffering was unable to give her address or the names of her 4-year-old and 2-year-old sons, one of whom suffered a broken hip and the other severe cuts and bruises. Doctors say the woman is in a delicate condition and may die. No trace of the machine which struck them was found and the number of the automobile was not obtained.

Lynchings Show Big Decrease in U. S.

TUSKEGEE, Ala., Jan. 3.—Lynchings in the United States decreased more than 50 per cent during 1923, as compared with 1922, according to figures made public by the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute. During 1923 there were twenty-eight lynchings as compared with fifty-seven of the preceding year, these figures showed. Twenty-six of the number were negroes and two were whites. Two women were among the victims of mobs.

These figures gave Mississippi and Florida eight lynchings each; Georgia, four; Arkansas, two; Texas, two; Virginia, one; Missouri, one; Oklahoma, one; Louisiana, one.

Ship Record Broken At Panama Canal

PANAMA, Jan. 3.—Merchant ships to the number of 5046 passed through the Panama canal during the year 1923, figures available today shows. They paid approximately $22,861,000 in tolls. The record in both number of ships and aggregate tolls for the first calendar year which ended July 1, already has been broken and new marks now have been set for the calendar year's traffic. During 1922 the vessels using the waterway totalled 2997 and the tolls aggregated $12,673,407.

ARREST TWO IN $50,000 S. F. ROBBERIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—A brief motor chase resulted in the arrest of two men, alleged to have taken part in nine recent payroll holdups and bank robberies, involving nearly $50,000.

At the city prison they gave the names of William O'Brien and William McCarty and were charged with burglary and robbery. The police identify them as former convicts and as confederates of John O'Keefe, alias Ryan, who was shot down and arrested two weeks ago by the retired policeman, Harry Sils, in an attempt to rob the Crystal Palace Market of $15,000.

Detectives Wall and Cannon of the shotgun squad, cruising the city in an armored car, recognized the bandit automobile at Pacific and Powell streets and gave chase. At Polk and Pine streets they overtook the fugitives, who surrendered without a struggle.

"Cannon and Wall," one of the men muttered to the other as they faced the detectives' guns and raised their hands.

The three men in jail were positively identified by Charles Licht of the Oakland Bank of Savings of $12,000 October 8, last. The identification was made by F. A. Allard and W. J. Schneider, the two employees who faced the bandits' guns.

O'Brien was identified by Paul J. Quirk, cashier of the Western Smelting Company, Folsom and Beale streets, who was robbed of a $2370 payroll September 24, last.

Both O'Brien and McCarty were identified by Frank Nash of the Nash Stevedoring company, 6 Mission street, as the men who robbed him of a $3900 payroll August 24, last.

Other robberies with which the suspects are alleged to have been connected are as follows: Holdup and robbery of Charles Licht of the Lyons California Glazed Fruit Company, $1443 payroll, May 29 last; holdup and robbery of Cornelius $3000 cash, $4000 checks, April 16 Foley, Bank of Italy messenger.

Last, holdup and robbery of Donald Riley, collector for Madison & Burke, real estate concern, $1400, May 1 last; holdup and robbery of Fred Carrol, Madison & Burke collector, $222, last February; holdup and robbery of James Stevenson, cashier of the Folger Coffee Company, $1275, of recent date.

Through the efforts of Detectives McLaughlin, Bunker and Richards, clues were established, that enabled Detectives Wall and Cannon to identify the bandit machine.

Litt., president of Columbia University, member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters and recently elected to the Academy of Moral and Political Sciences of the Institute of France, recently was made a member of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers International Union of America, as he laid the cornerstone of the $1,000,000 School of Business building being erected at 116th street and Broadway.

Mineral Production In Alaska Reduced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Although gold and silver production in Alaska declined in value, the mineral wealth was increased from $19,506,365 in 1922, to $20,300,000 in 1923, according to the annual report of Alfred H. Brooks, chief Alaskan geologist, now in preparation. Increases were shown in the output of coal, copper and lead.

Gold production this year was valued at $6,150,000, as against $7,422,367 in 1922, while silver declined from $729,945 to $600,000. Copper increased from $10,225,655 to $12,500,000; coal from $430,639 to $600,000, and lead from $41,477 to $70,000.

The output of petroleum, marble, gypsum, platinum and other minerals dropped in value from $34,252 to $314,000. The total value of all minerals produced since 1880 was placed at $18,000,000.

Build Bat Roosts to Clear Out Mosquitoes

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 3.—Some localities in Indiana and Michigan are ripe for anti-mosquito work. This is one pest people often dread rather than combat, beyond using screens. The federal government has discovered a variety of excellent extermination and preventive measures which can be employed by cities at small expense.

One simple method is to propagate and protect bats. It has been found that bats will drive out mosquitoes. So some cities are adopting bat roosts for the mosquito infested neighborhoods.

REWARD TELEPHONE MAN FOR BRAVERY

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 3.—Presentation of a Vall medal and cash award of $250 was made by E. D. Nims, president of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company in his office in the Boatman's Bank building, to Cleve Ford, a telephone lineman, of Little Rock, Ark., one of the nine employees in the Bell System to receive Vall medals for acts of noteworthy public service during 1923.

The medal was given to Ford, according to his citation, "because of his self-sacrifice in rescuing from a position of grave danger a fellow telephone employee trapped in a manhole by a sudden explosion."

The rescue took place July 3, when Ford was a few feet from the manhole and Montgomery was down in it making the necessary connections. Seeing a sheet of flame 10 feet high rising from the opening of the manhole, Ford quickly reached down through the blaze and lifted his helper to the surface of the street. Ford's right hand and the right side of his face were severely burned.

VIGIL RESULTS IN SEIZURE OF THIEF

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Doughty suburbanites of Oakland outflanked and captured a persistent burglar who had made their neighborhood resemble an armed camp for more than a week.

After a dozen houses in their vicinity had been burglarized residents of the 4200 block on Arroyo avenue were expecting the invader. Trick burglar alarms were set up, family firearms were placed in easy reach, and watchdogs were carefully instructed. Robert Land of 4218 Arroyo, was so certain that his house would be chosen by the burglar this week that for three nights he sat on his roof with a shotgun across his knees.

Then, one night, while Land was at dinner, the burglar visited him, and would have gotten away with it, but for the vigilance of George Lorber, 4230 Glenn Court, Land's neighbor. Lorber saw the thief stealing from his neighbor's window, and seizing his ready weapon, overhauled and captured him.

The burglar gave his name as Edward Lawler. In his room at the St. Michel Hotel, Ninth and Broadway, police found a number of empty purses, several watches and chains, a diamond ring, a searchlight and a Jimmy. Lawler is believed to have perpetrated upward of 12 house robberies within the last two weeks.

—do you enjoy your pain?
—are you married to your disease?
—will you be lonesome without your suffering?

But—fair warning

If you come to me you're sure going to get well, for I have the most marvelous health science known to mankind. I know what it will do. So do all my present and past patients.

If you think it is a "fake," "bunk," or another way to separate you from a few of your musty old dollars, stay away—"enjoy" your pains; they're yours.

No, I am not soliciting your case, but I do hate to see so many needlessly sick people. I am just TELLING you that Chiropractic CAN get you well if you want to be well.

"I don't believe it. It's not so."

alright—

They told Edison he'd burn up New York with his new fangled electric lights.

They told Columbus he was bughouse and proved it (to their own satisfaction).

They said Orville and Wilbur Wright were crazy—the very idea that men could fly!

According to the "wise" ones, Ford would never be able to sell a thousand cars a year; now look at him, he makes 1,600 every day—or is it every hour?

Go on—they're your pains and aches and miseries—enjoy them. You've hand nursed 'em for years. They don't hurt me and you're not being missed.

I have just one purpose in life—that's to get folks well who are tired of being sick. And I do. I would practice Chiropractic if I were a millionaire.

Yes, it costs money. Not near as much as it is worth, tho'. And I'm getting plenty of patients, thank you.

So, get well or hug your disease closer and stay sick. You're the judge and it makes no difference to me. (Honestly now, how could it?)

Chiropractic is good for any kind of a disease or affliction you have.

Don't believe it?

Alright, then, Columbus WAS crazy.

GIANTS NOT TO GET INCREASE IN WAGES

Both New York Clubs Will Mail 1924 Contracts In Next Week or Two

BY HENRY FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—With good intention and some trepidation, the owners of the two champion ball clubs here are getting new salary papers ready for their athletes.

Champion ball clubs in recent years have developed the habit of expecting large raises in salaries after winning pennants for their owners.

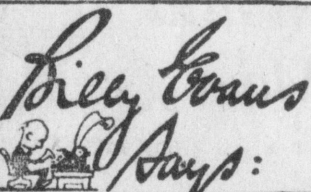

One or two of the Giants may get an increase in salary, but some of them may feel fortunate in getting to look at a contract," Charles A. Stoneham, owner of the National League champions, said.

Frisch, Young and Jackson are on the list for more money, but most of the players will have to be content with what they were drawing on their expired contracts. All of the Giants but Kelly have to be signed.

The Giants, in talking terms with the players, are in a better position to argue against general raises than the Yankees. The American League champions may figure that they are working for a wealthy boss who ought to be generous now that they have given him his first world's championship.

The Giant contracts will be mailed out in another week, but the Yank officials have not made known when they will get into their job.

Colonel Ruppert faces the job of signing every player on the team with the exception of Babe Ruth, and they all want more money. Ruppert is anything but a tight magnate, but while generous he is not extravagant. Players are to be given gold watches as souvenirs of the victory in the world's series and Colonel Ruppert is to give each of them a gold fob to go with the watch.

Funny how a ball club turns loose a player and then a few years later is mighty anxious to get him back. Manager McGraw of the New York Giants has several times sacrificed a promising recruit in order to get some veteran star, and then later paid a fancy price for the return of the youngster who was thrown in as part of the deal.

There was the case of Heinie Groh. He was sent to Cincinnati in a trade. McGraw knew Groh possessed great ability, but the Cincinnati club had a couple of veterans he figured would round out his club. Groh was sacrificed. After Groh had developed into a star McGraw paid big for his return to the Giants.

Just at present the Cleveland club is angling for First Baseman George Burns of the Boston Red Sox. A few years ago Burns belonged to Cleveland. He was sent to Boston as part payment for First Baseman McInnes, who has dropped out of the American League.

Burns, by the way, won undying fame against the Cleveland club in a game at Boston last summer. He made a triple play unassisted. Incidentally he figured prominently in three defeats handed Cleveland by Boston in that series. Since the Indians lost second place in the American League by a half-game margin it is easy to see that Burns was considerable of a jinx to his former teammates. Apparently Manager Speaker is not satisfied with his first base candidates. Like McGraw he is willing to take back a player he parted with, believing said player is the man needed to straighten out his infield. When Speaker sent Burns to Boston he realized he was parting with a valuable player, but he believed McInnes would prove a better one.

In baseball the matter of a few feet often spells the difference between failure and success. It was the last-minute moving of a few feet that made possible the triple play pulled by Burns against Cleveland.

I was umpiring the bases in that game, made the decisions on the play, and will never forget what the slight detail of moving a few feet to the right meant in the execution of the triple killing. Had Burns been playing his usual position the drive would have gone through for a single, or better, and might have made a considerable difference in the final result. Cleveland was trailing at the time. Stephenson was on second base, Lutzke on first, Brower at bat and no one out. Brower hits a ball hard down the right field line. With him at the bat, first basemen usually play close to the bag to be in the best possible position to handle his drives. Jack Quinn was pitching and Burns played close to the bag on the first few balls pitched. Then something happened to change the entire situation.

Quinn walked half way to first, called Burns over, and told him that he was going to shift his style of pitching on Brower and try to make him hit a fast ball, outside.

Previously Quinn had been pitching on the inside to Brower, so that he would hit the ball down the line, in the direction of where Burns was playing. Notified that the Quinn was going to pitch outside, Burns changed his position by taking several steps in the direction, years.

Oregon Aggies Nose Out Orange Five In Last Three Minutes

Coming from behind in the last three minutes of play, the Oregon Agricultural college basketball team last night won the first game of the series it will play in Southern California by defeating the Orange Athletic club, 24 to 18, at Orange.

Brown, Oregon center, was responsible for the victory as his foul shots and two field goals in the closing minutes nosed Orange out. The Athletic club led at half time, 12 to 6, but tired in the last two periods.

In a practice curtain-raiser game, the Orange high school squad won from Ed Covington's Santa Ana aggregation, 24 to 18.

DIG GAME'S WORST PERIL CALLED WOLF

Deer, Moose, Caribou Are Sufferers From Attacks; U. S. Offers Bounties

By MORRIS ACKERMAN

The most deadly menace of America's big game today is the wolf!

There are more reports of depredations of these plundering killers coming from various parts of the United States and Canada than in years. Unquestionably, a wolf pack is on the increase—a most unfortunate condition for the deer, the moose and caribou—to say nothing of the lesser inhabitants of the wilderness.

What the fox, owl and goshawk is to the small game of our country, the wolf is to the antlered and hooved mammals. He recognizes not the laws of man, nor the confines of our preserves and sanctuaries. The situation is bad and unless the so-called balance of nature, in this case the killing of the wolves amongst themselves, rights itself, the deer family will be wiped out in many parts of the hunting country.

Has Wolf Pack
Even Algonquin park—the greatest natural deer preserve in the world—has its wolf pack. It employs rangers born to the ways of the wolf. "Full pay and $40 per head" for every wolf destroyed has only served to check the devils. This too where the location of the wolves is known. The rangers "plant" a barrel of fish heads, carefully set the traps, spring them and consume the fish heads. Poison the heads and you wait in vain. I know personally of several places that have afforded excellent big game hunting in other years where in the fall of 1923 the game had either been driven out or totally killed off by the wolf. What is your solution?

The wolf is the most difficult predatory animal in the whole world to destroy. This not excepting the cougar. Thousands upon thousands of our big game hunters get in the back country each fall and it is safe to say that not one hunter in a thousand ever sees a wolf, much less kills one.

Hear Night Yowl
Yet how many of us hear night after night the yowl of the pack striking terror to the very marrow of the game we seek. How many times we find the snarl of bloody hair and the few remains of gnawed and ravished bones in the morning's snow. The tale is a pitiful one indeed.

In most states and all the Canadian provinces there is a heavy bounty on the despised hide of the wolf. A bounty that calls for all the craftiness and wiles of the hunter and trapper in the setting of his steel, the placing of his strychnine and sureness of his aim. The answer is told by the ever-increasing killing, howling mob. Who will solve the problem of this villainous creature that comes boldly from his lair to destroy by night and slink back again at the break of morn to its hiding place in impenetrable swamps? The world awaits that man.

Fights and Fighters

of second. Quinn's next offering, instead of being outside, as intended, was almost through the middle of the plate. Brower hit the ball on a line into Burns' hands. Both runners had started with the pitch. It was an easy matter for Burns to touch Lutzke on the lines, then he beat Stephenson to second, completing the triple play unassisted. The moving of a few feet toward second had made the play possible. Little things often play big parts in baseball.

Believed to be the oldest, active Masonic official in the country, Joseph Dinkie, 98 years of age, has just been re-elected tiler of the lodge in Bridgewater, Va. He has held the office continuously for 35 years.

CHIVA WINNER IN CLOSE RACE AT TIJUANA

Tijuana, Mexico, again is the mecca for society folk of Southern California and sportsmen and horse lovers from all quarters. The winter season races are on again. Here is a glimpse of one of the recent races in which Chiva, a rank outsider, galloped home to pay his backers $80 for each $2 invested. Chiva, a C. B. Irwin horse, was ridden by Freddie Cantrell.

BILL DONOVAN WAS BASEBALL IMMORTAL

Veteran Pitcher, Manager Always Had Good Word For Those He Met

By BILLY EVANS
(American League Umpire.)

Bill Donovan is dead.

I can't believe it. I am waiting for some one to tell me it isn't true.

It seems only yesterday that I was chatting with him in the lobby of the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York. The time dates back to the world series, the middle of October, 1913. I can still feel that hearty handshake of Bill's and his genial, "Hello, Will."

He always had a habit of so addressing me, probably because he knew I didn't like it. With the greeting went the smile, characteristic of Bill Donovan.

I asked him what his plans were for the coming season. He was a bit undecided, said he would probably return to manage the New Haven club, where fans and owner had treated him royally. Yet it seemed to me as if Donovan was yearning for another whirl at a big league job.

Now Fate has decided the issue. The Great Umpire has called the final out. Bill Donovan is but a cherished memory in the realms of baseball.

I'll wager he died with a resolute smile playing over his countenance, in spite of the horror of the situation. Bill Donovan was nothing if not courageous. Put to the test scores of times on the ball field and never found wanting, I am sure he answered the final tragic call like the brave soldier he always was.

Bill. You were a man worth while.

Had Great Control
Donovan was unquestionably one of the greatest pitchers that ever graced the major leagues. Early in his career he won the title of "Wild Bill" because of lack of control. That title stuck with him to the very end, yet during the last ten years of his career it meant nothing, for control was Donovan's greatest asset, the secret of his success.

Donovan had a world of stuff and a master brain. Realizing the value of psychology, he made use of the fear that the name "Wild Bill" carried to every American League batsman. Few batters hugged the plate with Donovan pitching and at opportune moments Bill would cut loose with a wild pitch that would heighten the fear.

If I were asked to name the six greatest pitchers I ever umpired for, Bill Donovan would occupy a high rating in that list. Aside from dazzling speed, Donovan had a great curve ball, such a curve as few modern pitchers boast. There was a sharp break and a downward drop to his out-curve and his inshoot had a hop that made it almost unhittable when Bill was right.

Bill Donovan will go down in baseball history as one of the truly great pitchers. He had everything, the mechanical ability and a keen brain to make use of it, plus the courage of a Spartan. No situation was too tough for Bill Donovan. In the pinch he was always at his best.

Starred With Tigers
Donovan had no greater admirer than Hugh Jennings, now assisting John McGraw in managing the New York Giants. Donovan was at the top of his game back in 1907-08-09 when he was winning pennants for the Detroit Tigers by his great pitching.

Hugh Jennings was managing the Tigers at the time. I once heard Jennings remark when complimented on the showing of his club:

"If Bill Donovan's arm holds out, I will probably be called a Miracle Man at the close of the season. His pitching is making me a great manager."

A few years ago when discussing the old pennant-winning days at Detroit, I heard Jennings say: "We had quite a ball club but Donovan was the man who made the Tigers a pennant winner. In a pinch it was always Donovan who got the assignment. When some pitchers faltered Donovan was always ready to step into the breach. When not pitching Donovan was equally valuable keeping up the morale of the club. He was always the optimist. No game was ever lost with Donovan until the last man was out."

Gave Jinx the Ha-Ha
When one considers that Donovan was pursued by a jinx during his

"Little Bill" Johnston, Wimbledon champion of 1923, and one of the greatest of all tennis players, will not be able to accompany the American team that is to be sent to the Paris Olympics next summer.

Johnston gave up six months from his business last year to play tennis, and he feels that he cannot spare half of next year to compete at Wimbledon, Paris, and in the Davis Cup matches and national championships in this country.

America is rich in tennis, but the wealth of the country is represented almost entirely in Bill Tilden and Johnston. They are stars extraordinary, standing above all others. Other American players are ordinary.

Bill Tilden will have an awful load to carry the burden of the whole team through against competition that will be formidable, at least.

Ten men and women players are to be sent with the tennis section of the big American Olympic team. The players are to be selected by the Davis Cup committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association, a committee that handles all the association's international affairs.

Buried with a lot of sub-committee reports made public recently by the American Olympic committee was the following interesting dope:

"Julian S. Myrick, chairman of the Olympic tennis team committee, reported it had been practically decided to select the men's team to represent America from the following: William T. Tilden, Richard Norris Williams, Vincent Richards, Watson Washburn and Francis T. Hunter."

Omission of the name of Bill Johnston brought the information for the first time that Bill had notified the committee, possibly and finally, that he would not be able to get away from his business.

Continuing with his tennis report, Myrick was quoted in his report:

"The ladies' team will be selected from: Miss Helen Wills, Mrs. Molla Mallory, Miss Eleanor Goss, Miss George W. Wightman, Mrs. Thomas C. Bundy, Miss Lillian Scharman and Miss Leslie Bancroft."

Mention of Mrs. Mallory's name as a probable selection indicates that the committee is still hopeful that the international body will suspend the rules and allow the former American champion to compete, although she is not eligible.

Mrs. Mallory will be sent with the Olympic team.

BOSTON—Playing its first practice game as a unit, the American Olympic hockey team defeated the powerful sextette of the Boston Hockey club here last night by a score of 2 to 0. Clarence Abel, St. Paul, did not arrive in time to play with the Olympic team.

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Jack Kearns, fight promoter, was shot through the right arm during an attempted holdup as he returned home last night with the fight receipts. He put the two would-be holdup men to route after hitting one in the face with his money box, containing $3,000, and smashing the other with his fist.

SAN DIEGO—Joe Layman of Los Angeles, outpointed Cy Murphy San Diego lightweight, here last night in a warm battle. Bill Ketchel won a decision over Joe De Leon.

the latter part of his career, I was rather remarkable that his optimism never deserted him.

Twice when managing the New York Yankees it looked as if he was certain to win, only to have the jinx assert itself and ruin his chances. Starting west on one trip in first place and picked up win, practically every regular on the team suffered injuries and when the club returned home it was hopelessly out of the race.

It takes a real man to smile and keep on fighting in adversity. Bill Donovan was such an individual.

WASHINGTON, NAVY MAY BATTLE AGAIN

Officials Want to Express Gratitude to Generosity of Coliseum Chief

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—The Navy may return here in 1924 to meet the University of Washington on the local Coliseum field, according to an authentic source.

Considerable discussion was devoted to the proposed contest today after it was shown that both schools would regard such a contest with great favor.

It has developed that Annapolis, appreciating the fine sportsmanship of Zack Farmer, manager of the Community Development association, in releasing the Huskies from their contract with him, wish to reward Farmer in some way. Arrangements of another contest with Washington would be favorable to the Naval officers, it was learned.

Admirals and captains on the coast, who at first opposed the game this year, are now the strongest boosters for another meeting. Darwin Melsnest, Washington graduate manager, announced he believed his school would be glad to return here.

MONTECITO COUPLE KILLED BY TRAIN

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 3.—Major and Mrs. George W. Fishback, wealthy Montecito residents, drove to their death in front of the northbound Coast Line Limited near their home. In an inclosed car they failed to hear the train whistle for the Eucalyptus lane crossing.

It is believed Major Fishback died first. He was 63, former secretary of the American legation in Argentina and chief paymaster of American volunteers for the district of Porto Rico during the Spanish war. He and Mrs. Fishback were the principal stockholders in the First National bank at San Jose.

In France the custom of exchanging New Year's gifts has survived longer than in any other European country.

The best track and field athletes in the world will be there; America's star swimmers, the record holders of every important distance and class; the oarsmen, trap and rifle shooters, soccer and rugby players, boxers and wrestlers, fencers, gymnasts and cyclists will all be busy at about the same time.

No competition in general sports has ever been arranged with such continuity and class as will be provided next summer in Paris.

In raising funds to pay the expenses of the tennis players, the tennis association struck upon the good idea of asking the members of every club affiliated with the association to contribute 50 cents or more to the fund.

Members of every amateur athletic club and every social or fraternal organization in the country could get 50 cents per capita out of its membership and a good cause would be helped without reducing anyone to want.

RAISE $55,000 TO ESTABLISH BEACH MILL

Boosters of Project At Huntington Hope For
$125,000

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 3.—With $55,000 already subscribed toward the establishment of a cotton mill in this city by residents of the town things are looking bright for the erection of the plant in this city soon, according to the statement of the local promoters and backers. It is necessary to raise $125,000 to get the mill in this city.

The men have been working on the plans and details of the mill during the past ten days.

Should the mill come here soon it is pointed out that the development of this city for manufacturing industries would be rapid. Proximity to Orange county harbor will make this city one of the best locations for any kind of industry, say local residents, and their opinions are upheld by outside investigators who have been here.

S. A. Man At Head
W. A. Golden of Santa Ana is the president of the company. Many of the local residents have already subscribed toward the mill. A plan both satisfactory to the promoters of the company and to the public which will be interested in the mill has been worked out.

Those of this city who have invested in the company are D. O. Stewart, vice president of the Security Trust and Savings bank, Lynn Colburn, Walter Tubach, B. T. Mollica, Ralph Turner, F. H. McElfresh, William Crawford, Ben Patton, E. H. Boyer, R. J. Prescott, J. A. Arncliffe, Attorney J. L. Hansen, Mr. Gammon, E. C. Adams, L. A. Blivens, E. A. Suter, Mr. Koutitz, J. J. Thornton, Mr. Whitfield, William Wharton, Charles Clark, John Eader, Clark H. Reid, J. J. Glickner, Frank Glickner, Casullo Brothers, W. O. Day and Company, J. A. Lawrence, F. W. Swann, Mrs. F. W. Swann, A. Olson, Anna Butler, R. E. Lewis, John D. Casullo, B. Butcher, C. E. Westover, and Elmer Turner.

Considering the fact that the local representatives have only been working on the project for the past ten days it is pointed out that the realization of the cotton mill may be soon. Other factories are sure to follow it is claimed, and with the natural advantages at hand all that is needed is a start toward the manufacturing industry.

BEACH LEGION MEN TO INSTALL HEADS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 3.—Legionnaires of Orange county are invited to join the Huntington Beach post in their installation of officers here Tuesday night.

Efforts have been made to secure James F. Collins, state commander of the American Legion, to be present at the ceremony, but according to Mitchell, Commander Collins will be in San Francisco on Monday night to install officers of the post there and consequently will not stand much show of getting to this post.

It is hoped, however, that a personal representative will be present. The installation of officers will take place in the City Auditorium and a fine program has been arranged by the entertainment committee, it is said.

Mr. Mitchell also stated that if Commander Collins did not arrive here for Tuesday night, efforts would be made to secure him for the meeting to be held here January 25, when the Orange County Council meets at this city.

Malcom G. Keith will be commander of the legion post during the coming year. He will have his hands full with the coming of the Armistice Day celebration which is expected to be the feature of the year for Orange county.

The eighty-foot pavilion on Ocean avenue which will soon be completed is expected to offer an unrivaled drive for the parade. A counter-march is being planned for this street which will enable the spectators to view the floats and exhibits twice and form a first and last impression of them.

With the plans and reports of the past two Armistice Day celebrations to guide them and a special committee already at work on the plans for the coming celebration, there is no reason why the Armistice Day celebration of Orange county should not be as big an event as is the Carnival of Roses at Pasadena, declare local members of the Legion.

FUNERAL AT BEACH.
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 3.—Funeral services were held this morning for Mrs. Dora D. Moore, wife of Isaac O. Moore, formerly of this city. Mrs. Moore passed away at the El Centro hospital Dec. 29. She had been sick for some time with pneumonia. Mrs. Moore was 60 years of age. Interment was made in the local cemetery.

LIFE RECRUITS TO MEET
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 3.—The recruits of the county will hold their New Year meeting at the Huntington Beach Christian church, Saturday evening, Jan. 5. Pot-luck supper at 6:30 o'clock. The speakers will be Mr. and Mrs. Mosely, pioneer missionaries to Thibet.

Eagle Scout Badge
Will Be Presented to
H. B. School Boy

GILBERT HOTCHKISS
Gilbert Hotchkiss, Huntington Beach Scout, will be awarded the badge worn by the Eagle Scouts at the next court of honor to be held soon. Hotchkiss is one of the most active and interested members of the troop. He is at present assisting Scoutmaster C. E. Morris in his work with the Junior Scouts. He recently qualified for an Eagle Scout by winning the necessary number of Merit badges.

Tonsorial Artist Of San Luis Obispo Is Fined At Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 3.—N. J. Brassill, a San Luis Obispo barber, had to come a long way to get drunk. That was the opinion of local minions of the law here today following the arrest of Brassill Tuesday evening by Chief of Police Jack Tinsley. The arrest was the first made in the new year and was made by the chief of the local force.

According to reports, Brassill came to Long Beach to visit with friends and took a trip to this city where his car became entangled with a telephone pole on Twenty-third street and he was arrested. Yesterday he paid a $50 fine in the local court and started for his home in San Luis Obispo.

First Permit Taken Out At Beach Is For Eighth Street Garage

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 3.—First building permit for the new year was issued to O. B. Hitterdahl of 525 and 523 Eighth street for the erection of a concrete garage at the above address.

According to members of the building permit department and also many of the prominent men of the town, 1924 stands in a very good position to make the grade and beat the $1,000,000 mark this year.

It is thought that the Huntington Beach Investment company may carry out their plans to erect their fine $100,000 hotel, store and theater building. Rumor also has it that E. B. Smith of Long Beach, who recently purchased the lot on the corner of Fifth and Walnut streets and also the old city hall building, intends to erect a fine new hotel on his property there.

Police Department At Beach Sustaining

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 3.—If police departments which almost pay for themselves are rare then this city has a rare police department.

During the past year the local officers have made 1400 arrests, which have netted the city $15,443 in fine money. The total cost of the police department for the year has been $18,156 it is claimed. The difference between the fines and the cost of the department is $2,713 net cost of the department for the year.

Efficiency has been the motto of the local department for the past year and will be as long as Chief of Police Jack Tinsley is in charge of the force. Few indeed are the law breakers in this city who escape the hands of the law.

Ten men are employed by the city to protect the property and safety of the residents. Five men compose the day shift of the force and five are on the night shift. Two of the men on the night shift spend the hours patrolling the streets of the city. They are known as "Crime Crushers" and carry sawed off shot guns for the benefit of unruly.

Shrapnel in Spine;
Pastor Seeks Relief

RED BLUFF, Jan. 3.—The Reverend Edward Towne, pastor of the First Methodist church in Red Bluff, has gone to San Francisco, where he may have a critical operation performed. He is consulting surgeons with a view of attempting to remove a piece of shrapnel from near the spinal column.

The shrapnel was embedded in his body during a battle in France in the late World War, and it has given him considerable trouble the last five or six years.

HIGH RECORDS ARE SET FOR NEW YEAR

Improvements Equal to
One-Sixth of Total
Property Value

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 3.—With improvement and building activities in this city amounting to nearly one-sixth of the assessed valuation of the city and much more to be spent during the coming year the growth and prosperity of this city is little short of marvelous, it is said by old residents.

The assessed valuation of the city is $9,077,441. Building permits for the year amounted to $932,218. Other improvements included the paving of Ocean avenue at a cost of $229,000 and the erection of a huge oil reservoir by the Associated Oil company at a cost of $250,000. The installation of improved water and gas systems over the city, new electric lights on several of the streets and other improvements have run the total well over the $1,500,000 mark.

July was the banner month for the building department when a total of $330,995 was recorded in building activities. December was by far the lightest month of the year and is said by many to have been the lightest month for over two years.

Building permits include a $250,000 grammar school, several fine new apartment houses, among which is one costing $30,000, a new Southern California Edison company building costing about $30,000, several business buildings costing from $5,000 to $10,000 and many residences.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL OUT TO TAME LIONS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 3.—Ed Manning presented the gavel to Clark H. Reid, president of the Lions club for the coming year, at the meeting held yesterday at the Obarri banquet hall, when the installation of officers was held.

Besides the installation of the officers the local Lions also gave a dinner to the local Boy Scouts who are under their supervision. Mr. Manning also gave a report of the doings of the club during the year past.

About thirty members of the local Boy Scout troop were present at the meeting. L. W. Blodgett, city attorney, gave an interesting talk to the Scouts and the Lions Club on the subject of "Obedience."

It was decided that the local Lions club would raise the Huntington Beach amount of the Orange county Boy Scout fund which will be about $500.

Music was furnished to the club by the members of the Sunshine Jazz Six an orchestra composed of local talent. The young people of the Orchestra have become very popular and are in much demand at parties and dances in the city.

FEW UNCLAIMED DEPOSITS IN S. A. BANKS

Despite the fact that there are few if any unclaimed bank deposits in Santa Ana institutions local cashiers today were keenly interested in the revival of that most fascinating of buried treasure stories—the abandoned bank account.

In a recent case decided by the supreme court of the United States the state of California, receiving notice that a large Los Angeles bank had an accumulation of such dormant deposits, entered suit to obtain the abandoned money for the state. The bank opposed the suit on the ground that it was trustee for the depositors and must continue to hold the money. After long litigation the supreme court upheld the lower courts and turned the money over to the state.

Topic Interests.
"Periodically," said Alex Brownridge, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants' bank, "interest becomes aroused in sums of money which lie unclaimed in the banks of the country, and people begin to turn over in their minds the names of dead or missing relatives who might have accumulated bank funds and died without specifically bequeathing them to anybody."

"Although there are few, if any, such accounts in Santa Ana banks, in a country as large and populous as the United States, it is not surprising that there are millions of dollars in these unclaimed bank accounts. From time to time the bank advertise such accounts. If after 20 years, the money is unclaimed, it is usually turned over to the state."

According to well-informed bankers, the most fruitful source of abandoned deposits is accounts of men who died suddenly. Then, there is the man who forgets easily. The story has been told that a

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.
YOST—Vandeville and "Anna Christie," with Blanche Sweet.
WEST END—"The Call of the Canyon" with Richard Dix.
TEMPLE—"The Acquittal," with Claire Windsor and Norman Kerry.
PRINCESS—"Crinoline and Romance," with Viola Dana.

BLANCHE SWEET AS ANNA IN "ANNA CHRISTIE."
Blanche Sweet is recognized as one of the first emotional actresses in silent drama. It was she who was chosen for the coveted role of Anna in "Anna Christie," now showing at the Yost.

Miss Sweet was well known on the "legitimate" as a dancer with Gertrude Hoffman before she began her screen career.

Of the score of stars considered for the title role in "Anna Christie," Ince selected Miss Sweet as most perfectly representing the character immortalized by Pauline Lord in Eugene O'Neill's original stage drama.

"THE ACQUITTAL" CLOSING AT TEMPLE TONIGHT.
Realism, aided by newspapers and an arm of the law, marked every stage of the filming of "The Acquittal" with its all-star cast, headed by Norman Kerry and Claire Windsor. The remarkable picture completes its engagement at the Temple theater tonight.

Scenes of famous trials from many cities, borrowed from newspaper "morgues," were used to guide every step of designing the huge court room set and the action of the players in the trial scenes.

Charles Furthman, former deputy district attorney of Chicago, sat with Clarence L. Brown, the director, through all stages of the filming to act as adviser on every point of legal conduct.

The unique play unfolds its story by picturing the evidence of witnesses. As each witness takes the stand, the testimony is portrayed in screen action.

STRONG CAST IN FEATURE OF WEST END FILM.
Richard Dix, Lois Wilson and Marjorie Daw are featured players in the cast of "The Call of the Canyon" now showing at the West End theater.

"The Call of the Canyon" is a thrilling picture of the West. Among the many big scenes are the fight between Glenn Kilbourne, played by Dix, and Haze Ruff when the latter insults Lois Wilson who is cast as Carley Burch; Carley lost in a sand storm in the Arizona desert and the marathon dancing contest in the fashionable New York home of the Morrisons. There is a happy blending of thrills, pathos and humor throughout the action.

Noah Beery, Ricardo Cortez, Fred Huntley and Lillian Leighton head the strong supporting cast.

Prehistoric Mastodon Tooth Found in Quarry

RENO, Jan. 3.—Finding of the tooth of a prehistoric mastodon in a rock quarry near Sweetwater, Nev., further strengthens the theory that Nevada was once the stamping grounds of these ancient beasts.

After being on exhibition in the office of the Mono forest supervisor at Minden, the specimen has been sent to the Smithsonian Institute at Washington. A series of footprints of prehistoric animals including tracks of a giant sloth are visible in the state prison yard at Carson City, where rock had been cut away in construction work. Bones of a prehistoric horse, have also been uncovered in Eastern Nevada.

13-Year-old Boy Hit by Automobile

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Louis Schmitt, 13 years old, 53 Guerrero street, was taken to the Mission Emergency hospital in an unconscious condition. He was struck at Nineteenth and Valencia streets by an automobile driven by Thomas Dinen, 103 San Jose avenue.

rich automobile manufacturer discovered he had a deposit of $2,000,000 in a Canadian bank. He had completely forgotten the existence of the money. It was bought to his attention by chance. Still another source is secret personal accounts.

Many states have laws providing that if a bank account remains dormant for 20 years, the money reverts to the state government. The usual rule is that if no deposit is made, nor any check drawn against the account in 20 years, there is good reason to believe the money has been abandoned.

If the bank has any reason to believe the owner of the money is still alive this rule does not operate. Claimants who have a right to the money can recover it from the state if application is made within five years from the date the money is turned over to the state by the bank.

VILA DANA FILM PLEASER PRINCESS PATRONS.

Viola Dana's distinctive personality and unique talent as a screen comedienne is given ample opportunity for a display of its best work in "Crinoline and Romance," the new photoplay which was enjoyed by large audiences yesterday at the Princess, where it began a run of three days.

Every characterization in which this gifted star has been seen is totally different from any other. There is no more delightful person in Miss Dana's whole gallery than her present one—Miss Emmy Lou Southern, miss whose adoring but stern grandfather has kept her in the most complete seclusion. Emmy, being human, lets her curiosity get the best of her. With her colored mammy, she goes off to see life, or more specifically, that variety of it which is found in the ultra-fashionable home of her aunt.

MISSION BELLS STILL HEARD BY PEOPLE

Old Bell Ringer Enjoys Telling Them For Special Occasions

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Jan. 3.—Sending their melodious peals through the valleys and over the rolling mesas along El Camino Real, the bells of San Juan Capistrano once called the faithful to worship, to labor, to recreation and to meals. Today they remain the most romantic feature of the state-by old mission.

The four bells now hang in the bell-tower between the present chapel and the ruins of the magnificent old stone church, where they were placed when they were taken from the wreckage after the fatal earthquake on December 8, 1812.

Not Original Bells. As their inscriptions show, these were not the original bells of the mission, brought there with the establishment of San Juan Capistrano in 1776.

The largest bell bears this inscription in Spanish: "Praised be Jesus, San Vicente. In honor of the Rev. Fathers, Ministers, Fray Vicente Foster, and Fray Juan Santiago, 1796."

Another title reads: "Hail Mary most pure. Ruelas made me, and my name is San Juan, 1796." The two smaller bells are dated 1804. All four were hung high in the belfry of the great stone church.

TAKES BACK MATE ABSENT 20 YEARS

HAVERSTRAW, N. Y., Jan. 3.—After an absence of twenty years John Drummond is back home. Only to his wife, Elizabeth, has he unfolded the secrets of his wanderings.

He deserted her, and she had thought him dead long ago, but when he returned with a substantial inheritance and found her toiling in a needlework factory, earning just enough to keep herself in a small furnished room, he welcomed him back, and now he and Mrs. Drummond are living in an expensive apartment and her days of factory work are ended.

They plan to build a home for themselves next spring. These are about all the facts the townsfolk know. Drummond, before he went away, was bookkeeper in the Garrettsville Print Works, near Haverstraw. He made a fair salary and one day he and Elizabeth Garland were married, but a few months later he vanished and no trace of him was found.

Plans For Arch At Orange Blow Up; High Hopes Go Down

ORANGE, Jan. 3.—The early erection of a municipal arch across Chapman avenue near Main street, receiving a staggering blow at the city council meeting. City Attorney Deering informed the city solons that, in his opinion, the city could not legally donate funds toward the erection of an arch in the manner proposed.

Deering said that the council as a legislative body could not delegate authority, and turning money over to the chamber of commerce to be expended by that organization, would be such a delegation. Furthermore, the attorney ruled that since the construction of the arch would require more than $300,000, being in the nature of something to be erected, it would fall under the head of such matters as would require bids to be acted upon by the council.

BUILDING MARK AT HARBOR IS VERY GOOD

Better Class of Homes Put Up In 1923 Seen In Official Report

BALBOA, Jan. 3.—The building record of the city of Newport Beach for the year just closed is a very satisfactory one.

The total number of building permits, including repairs and alterations, was 290 as compared to 323 for 1922, but the amount involved was $405,150, while that of the year before was $245,760, showing a better class of building for 1923.

Many good homes were built this year, several of which cost up to $7,000, the average cost being $1,400. It is said by the contractors that the values stated in the permits are on an average of 60 per cent of the real cost of the improvements when finished, which would make the total invested in new buildings and improvements, all of which were for homes or home betterments, about $667,000. There is one exception, however, to this, the new grammar school costing $51,000.

In addition to this the city has spent more than $500,000 in paving streets and improving the sewer system. Street paving was done under a blanket contract and included every street in the city proper, except the eastern end of Central avenue. This was an innovation in street improvement, and it is said no other city in the southland can boast of having every street paved in one year. Balboa Island is yet to be paved, and several new additions recently taken in.

Balboa Island is to have a new sewer system next year, the contract for which was let to Gibbons & Reed in the sum of $133,654. It is contemplated also to build a new bridge from the island to the mainland shore on the completion of the state highway.

Another important public work under consideration is the construction of a pipe line system for supplying water to Corona del Mar immediately across the eastern arm of the bay from Balboa Island. When this is done the mains will be extended to the island giving that district a pressure from an elevation of sixty feet.

The new year the building program already promised is larger than any previous year and will include many fine homes and at least two business blocks, one by W. A. Irwin in Newport and the other by L. R. Briggs in Balboa, plans for which have already been accepted by the builders.

Explorers to Hunt White Indian Race

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Three young adventurers have sailed in a thirty-six foot yawl for a two years' trip of 12,000 miles. Their objective is the source of the Amazon river, where they expect to find a race of white Indian women.

The voyagers are Paul Eve Stevenson, president of La Ritz pearl company, 342 Madison avenue, once a Harvard athlete; George Rehn, who fought in the French army before 1917 and then in the A. E. F., later undertaking exploration in French North Africa, and Thomas Buffam, Harvard graduate and former flying "ace" in the Lafayette expedition, whose escape with Tommy Hitchcock from a German prison camp gained world wide attention in 1917.

According to the plans of the explorers, virtually the entire voyage will be made in their yawl.

Woodland Man is Drugged and Robbed

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Waking from a fitful sleep, Thomas Mitchell, 320 O'Farrell street, recently arrived here from Woodland on business, found that he had been drugged and robbed of $510, he reported to the police. The last he remembered, he said, was an interview with a friend who gave him a drink and asked to borrow $50 for a sick wife in Portland.

Miss Lucy Craig was elected president and Miss Hortense Harkney secretary-treasurer. A history of the band was submitted by Edith Spicer and a paper was submitted by Margaret Falconer, both were accepted. Other business was taken care of and the meeting adjourned.

The S.O.S. class of the Christian church had a watch party at the church annex New Year's eve.

Says Flappers Ought To Eat Fish for Iodine

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Flappers should eat fish. That was the announcement today of the United States Bureau of fisheries after an exhaustive study which determined the iodine content of a marine and fresh water fish.

Lack of iodine in foods and water has been recognized as one of the causes of goiter and other thyroid troubles. Small amounts of iodine in foods are necessary to cause the thyroid gland to function properly. It was stated.

Oysters, clams and lobsters contain 200 times as much iodine as beef steak, the bureau of fisheries found. All marine fish are rich in iodine but fresh water fish lack this property.

"Ocean fish should not be omitted from the diet of young girls, who are particularly susceptible to thyroid disorders," the bureau of fisheries concluded.

Auto Crashes Into Store; Driver Flees

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—A search was being made for the unidentified motorist who wrecked an automobile parked on Twenty-fourth street near Fair Oaks street, and then drove his machine into a grocery store a block away. According to witnesses, the car crashed into the machine, rebounded and, after describing many maneuvers, crashed through the door of a grocery store. The driver fled leaving the damaged machine buried under a pile of groceries. According to the police the automobile is owned by Michael Eide, 916 Eddy street.

Orange Citizens Will Vote January 15 On $15,000 Bond Issue

ORANGE, Jan. 3.—The ordinance calling a $40,000 municipal water bond election, fixing the date for Tuesday, January 15, passed its second reading at the city council meeting Monday afternoon, and was adopted.

The ordinance was ordered published for seven days, beginning tomorrow, to meet the necessary legal requirements.

Funds made available through the issue will be employed for enlargements at the municipal water works, including purchase of an additional pump, gas engine and construction of a huge reservoir.

New water mains, twelve additional fire hydrants for the outlying districts and new subdivisions and other necessary equipment will be provided if the voters approve the bonds.

TRAFFIC RULES ARE CHANGED IN ORANGE

ORANGE, Jan. 3.—Orange folk, owning automobiles, but who have no garages faced a new predicament today.

At night they will either have to use private driveways to give their machines their accustomed nocturnal rest or else pay regular calls to the City Magistrate's office, there to pay a fine for violating a city ordinance.

Ban Night Parking. All because a new traffic ordinance, regulating the traffic situation in Orange, went into effect New Year's Day, prescribing, among its new rules, a night-time parking limit for cars in the residential district.

Under the new law, parking longer than six hours is prohibited on any street in Orange between the hours of 7 p. m. and 6 a. m. The section, it was indicated, was aimed to curb the practice, prevalent over the city, of parking cars on the residential streets all night long.

Downtown rooming-houses and apartments, which provide the tenants with no garages are also included under the new law, it was stated.

A stiff penalty is provided for violation of the new ruling and second offenses, it was indicated, may draw the full wrath of the law. The new traffic ordinance also established one-way travel around the plaza circle and prescribed a two-hour parking limit in the downtown district between the hours of 7 a. m. and 6 p. m.

SAND VISITORS PICK WALNUTS FROM OCEAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Sea walnuts! Nice fresh walnuts picked in salt water. Millions of 'em.

Visitors to the beach yesterday had a most unusual experience. They saw hundreds of persons in a mad scramble to grab walnuts, real English walnuts, from the sea. The gleaners and sacks, baskets, washtubs, boxes, buckets any old thing that would hold a nut, and waded far out into the Pacific, in their efforts to corral the latest product of the briny deep.

All along the beach from the Cliff House to Sloat boulevard the "beachcombers" were busy. Many carried four or five bushels and even some of the automobile blisters stopped to gather in a peck or two. And every street car coming in from the beach had a dozen or so people contentedly munching at sea-soaked nuts.

The remarkable phenomena went unexplained for many hours. Inquiries at the Merchants' Exchange and along the water front failed to reveal any reports of accidents or any vessel that had taken on a large cargo of nuts.

Then the "inside dope" came out. One day last week, a barge load of English walnuts, presumably condemned imported nuts, that had become infected with worms, weevils and other inedible things, had been towed out to sea to be dumped overboard. But the authorities had failed to figure that some nuts float. So when the many tons of nuts were thrown overboard, they played a great joke on Uncle Sam's watchful customs people and floated back to the U. S. A., where the good U. S. Ans proceeded to lay in a supply for the winter, worms and all.

GARDEN OF EDEN NO SMALL SPOT, CLAIM

MILFORD, Kan., Jan. 3.—The "Garden of Eden" spread over virtually the entire earth with animal life originating in various sections. Dr. W. H. Ballou, New York scientist, concludes from the finding here of fossil skulls which he believes to be millions of years old.

The specimens of these first forms of life were discovered by Dr. Ballou in a massive rockslide which exposed area from the Mesozoic and Paleozoic ages. One was the skull of a marsupial, believed by the scientist to be the first type of mammal that existed on earth. He estimates its ages as about 4,000,000 years.

Among the skulls were some which resembled spheonodon, the "father of reptiles," now found in New Zealand. Dr. Ballou announced that the specimens would be classified by specialists and then be offered to Northwestern university as an addition to the Ballou collection.

"The discoveries here," he said, "have strengthened my belief that animal life originated in various sections of the earth, and that the 'Garden of Eden' spread over virtually the entire globe. The picture was of the earth's cradle in the Devonian period, when diminutive species were in a mighty struggle of evolution to become both fish and reptiles."

WORLD STANDARD OF MORALS ADVOCATED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—International co-operation in developing a single standard of morals was urged by Grace Abbott, chief of the United States children's bureau, in her report as unofficial representative of the United States on the advisory committee on the traffic of women and children of the League of Nations.

Miss Abbott's summary of the accomplishments of the committee, during the year was made public as part of her annual report.

Miss Abbott said that as the result of a resolution adopted by the advisory committee, the council of the League of Nations has appointed a commission of experts, with Abraham Flexner of New York as chairman, to investigate the international traffic in women and children. Seventy-five thousand dollars has been appropriated by the American social hygiene bureau toward the cost of the investigation.

Other important resolutions suggested that the secretariat of the league prepare a digest of the laws on the traffic in women and children in the various nations; that

NEW RATING IN POSTOFFICE IS SOUGHT

Lt Habra People Point to Figures to Back Up Claim Made

LA HABRA, Jan. 3.—That La Habra will give free city postal delivery in 1925 was shown to be practically certain by the report of 1923 business at the local office compiled by Postmaster George M. Eaby.

Postal receipts of the year just ended were $7600.48, against $4900.68 for 1922, an increase of a trifle over 55 per cent.

These figures lacked only $400 of the amount necessary to move the office up from the third to the second class.

There is a possibility that, in view of the splendid record of the office, and the certainty that it will continue this year, that the office may be advanced at the beginning of the next fiscal year on July 1, but this is considered by Postmaster Eaby as hardly likely.

However, it appears to be measurably certain that city delivery will come in 1925. This is based on annual postal receipts of $10,000, and in order to reach that figure a much smaller percentage of increase would be necessary than that which obtained during the past year. In fact, the actual increase necessary is only $2400, while the increase in 1923 was $2700, which seems to dispel any doubt as to the outcome at the end of the present year.

The figures given above include only what is known as postal receipts, and take no account of the money order business, nor of the sale of internal revenue stamps. The latter business is carried on by the local office as a matter of accommodation, but reaches a very considerable sum in a year.

TUSTIN WOMAN TO BE BURIED JAN. 7

TUSTIN, Jan. 3.—Mrs. Ida May Crafts, wife of Charles P. Crafts of Englewood, passed away at the Los Angeles Hospital Dec. 31. Mrs. Crafts and her husband are residents of Tustin, coming here over a year ago from Illinois.

They recently moved to Englewood where Mr. Crafts was in charge of a large poultry ranch. Mrs. Crafts' death was brought about by a fall which broke one of the hip bones. She had been ill for some time.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters and five sons, one of them being L. H. Crafts, janitor of the local high school. Mrs. Crafts was 62 years of age.

Funeral services will be held from Hawthorne Funeral Parlors Monday at 2 p. m. Interment will be in the Englewood cemetery.

Now Thousands of Motorists

Enjoy these results—you, too, can get new speed—new rush in the pick-up—new power on hills.

WE know what Union Non-Detonating Gasoline will do for your motor. Exhaustive scientific research and experiment have taught us the results to expect. Now we point out these results to you so that you, too, may enjoy them.

Your car will take on noticeable improvements as if they were improvements in the motor itself. You'll note a new smoothness—an absence of vibration. You'll thrill at the new speed, the new rush in the pick-up and the plus power on hills. You'll feel these improvements at the wheel. You'll know that you are using better gasoline than you have ever tried before.

These results will come to any motorist who will use Union Non-Detonating Gasoline, unmixed with any other kind. We ask merely that you test it to prove these results. Do it now. Learn what you miss in motoring pleasure when you go without this better fuel.

How We Get Them

These results are not secured by chance. We get them in these ways:

There are 21 steps in the distillation of Union Gasoline. So-called "gasoline" can be made with two.

But each of those 21 steps is essential to the quality of Union Gasoline. They result in a perfect chain of boiling points which means that the explosions are progressive and sustained. They overlap, giving smooth, even power.

No sledge hammer blows on the piston head to cause vibration. Union Gasoline gives a quick, strong, steady impulse—a "follow through"—which permits of increased compression.

And increased compression, as you know, provides that added speed and pick-up, with greater power on hills.

These advantages—this new motoring pleasure—are yours if you will have it so. You, too, may get these results as thousands of motorists already have.

Fill with Union Gasoline and use it unmixed with any other kind. Surely it's worth a trial to know what this finer fuel will give you.
